

Proceedings: Summary 19/97
Terrorism and Genocide
"CONDOR OPERATION"

CENTRAL COURT OF INSTRUCTION
NUMBER FIVE
NATIONAL COURT

ORDER

In Madrid on tenth of December one thousand nine hundred and ninety-eight

BACKGROUND

ONE: On 16 October, 1998, criminal charges were filed against Augusto Pinochet and others for the offences of genocide, terrorism and torture, as part of Investigation 19/97 Item III relating to the so-called "Condor Plan".

TWO: On the same date an arrest warrant and an international arrest order were issued against Augusto Pinochet for the aforementioned offences.

THREE: On 18 October 1998 the arrest warrant and the international arrest warrant was extended

FOUR: On 3 November 1998, it was decided to propose to the Government the extradition of Augusto Pinochet Ugarte, who was detained for this purpose in London (England). The request was duly submitted and is currently being considered.

FIVE: On 4 and 5 November, a plenary session of the Criminal Division of the Spanish National Court unanimously held in two judgments both in relation to proceedings 19/97 before this Court and 1/98 before Central Court number 6 which are investigating the events in Argentina and Chile between 1976 and 1983 and between 1973 and 1990 respectively, which presumably constitute offences of genocide, terrorism and torture, that the Spanish Courts have jurisdiction to investigate and hear same.

SIX: By judgment of 20 October 1998 Central Court number 6 waived its jurisdiction over Investigation 1/98 in favour of this Court which by a judgment of 20 October 1998 was incorporated into Investigation 19/97 Item III, giving rise to a joinder of proceedings, which decision was confirmed by the Plenary Session of the Criminal Division of the National Court in a judgment dated 23 November 1998.

FACTS

ONE: Augusto Pinochet Ugarte, born in Valparaiso (Chile) on 25 November 1915, with Chilean identification number 1.128.923-1, then Commander-in-Chief of the Armed Forces, by an agreement with other senior military personnel, so as to fulfil the prior plan clandestinely arranged to bring down Chile's constitutional government and end the life of the President of the Republic Salvador Allende Gossens and establish a de facto military government, led a coup d'état on 11 (eleventh) September 1973 which led to the overthrow and death of President Allende in the Palacio de la Moneda, after which the latter, loyal to the current legal order, rejected the false offers of safe-conduct made to him by Augusto Pinochet, which in reality formed part of a plan, corroborated by an oral recording, to assassinate him by sabotaging the plane offered to him once it was airborne.

That same day and without a continuity solution the go-ahead was given by Mr. Pinochet Ugarte, and those who with him were directing the initiative, for a campaign of fierce repression against the lives, safety and freedom of persons and their property which would last from that date (11 September 1973) until 1990 -the year in which the accused left power-, and which was to reach the greatest levels of intensity during 1974 and 1975.

TWO: Augusto Pinochet Ugarte, from his commanding position, but pursuing an activity unrelated to the public duties entrusted to him as President and member of the Governing Junta formed after the coup d'état of the night of 11 September 1973, using and taking advantage of this position, created and led within his country, in co-ordination with other Chilean military and civilian leaders, and abroad, in conjunction with the military leaders holding power at that time in other countries in the area, such as Paraguay, Uruguay, Bolivia, Brazil and Argentina, an international criminal organisation whose only purpose was to conspire, develop and execute a systematic criminal plan of illegal detentions, abductions, torture followed by the death of the persons concerned, the forced removal of persons and the selective disappearance of over 3,000 people, who are hereinafter listed, in order to achieve a series of political and economic objectives so as to reaffirm the bases of the conspiracy and spread terror among the citizens.

Thus, on the one hand, the main objective of the conspirators was the partial destruction of the Chilean national group formed by all of those who were ideologically opposed to them by means of the selective elimination of the leaders of each sector forming the group through abduction followed by disappearance, detention, torture and death so as to inflict extremely serious physical and mental injury on the group victims and on the group itself. However, this main objective was strengthened or complemented by the persecution, by the same means and orders, of Chileans abroad who were considered targets to be eliminated.

The criminal action also sought partially to destroy the group by targeting persons who were either contrary to the official religious position adopted by the Governing Junta, presided over by Mr. Pinochet Ugarte, -this is the case of the members of the "Christians for Socialism" movement, who were to be annihilated-, or those whose beliefs were non-theistic, and who identified themselves ideologically as members of the international Marxist movement.

Finally, there is also evidence of the application of more "humiliating" and "degrading" treatment where the victim belonged to certain ethnic groups (natives -for example- the Mapuches) or religion (Jews). According to the estimates studied in the cause, more than 300.000 people were deprived of liberty; more than 100.000 persons were expelled or obliged to go into exile; those killed and/or disappeared amount to almost 5.000, although only those cases which are certain are listed and those who were victims of political violence were excluded; more than 500.000 persons were submitted to torture. Additional to these cases were all the other violations of other fundamental rights such as information, education etc..

THREE: Augusto Pinochet and the other members of the Governing Junta engaged in this multi-faceted criminal activity, which was unrelated to the inherent tasks of government, with the support and active collaboration of other Chilean, Argentinian, Uruguayan, Bolivian, Brazilian and Paraguayan senior military personnel, in the case of the latter five within the framework of the so-called "Condor" Operation/Plan designed for the exchange of information and intelligence relating to political opponents, aimed at identifying and locating such persons in order to have them physically eliminated or moved to anywhere which was considered advisable by the assisting member country in order to have them interrogated, disappear or executed.

The Condor Plan was a plan personally conceived by Colonel Manuel Contreras (Condor I), following the orders of Augusto Pinochet, and other leaders of countries committed at that time to the struggle against international communism, such as Uruguay, Paraguay, Bolivia, Brazil and subsequently Argentina. The first meeting, according to the information disclosed in the proceedings, was held in October 1975 in Santiago, Chile which was followed by others in other capital cities, such as Asuncion, as shown by the documents forming the so-called Paraguayan Terror Files. This National Intelligence meeting was attended by the Director of the DINA, Colonel Manuel Contreras Sepúlveda, the Paraguayan Head of Investigation, Pastor Colonel and the Head of the Paraguayan Militarised Police, Francisco Brites. It was stated that one of the fundamental grounds for establishing this organisation was "to confront this psycho-political war" and for this purpose it is necessary "to have in the international area not a centralised command in its internal operations, but rather effective co-ordination so as to allow an appropriate exchange of information and experiences as well as a certain degree of personal acquaintance between the Heads of Security". However, as will be seen, it would not be confined to mere intelligence work, but would also extend to detentions and the hand-over of persons followed by disappearances, on the pretext that they were engaged in subversive activities.

The clandestine detention centre known as "Automotores Orletti" in Buenos Aires, would be used under the Condor Plan as a transit centre for persons detained in Argentina, Uruguay, Bolivia, Paraguay or Chile who were afterwards handed over to each of the persons in charge in those countries who executed them or gave orders for their disappearance. Other centres were also used by the Paraguayan police such as ESMA (the Escuela Mecánica de la Armada in Buenos Aires)

On other occasions, the members of the services belonging to CONDOR would take direct action against the victims, putting them to death by the use of explosives or by some other equally effective means, as occurred in the case of General Prats in Buenos Aires, which will be referred to later.

This modus operandi constitutes the essence of the strategy of the aforementioned CONDOR PLAN which, according to the document dated 28 September 1976 -which was declassified in the U.S.- would concentrate on the execution of a full co-ordinated terrorist effort which could be carried out in any country, even non-CONDOR member countries, against persons or organisations considered to be "left-wing, Communists and Marxists". One of the sections of this document literally states as follows: "a third and more secret phase of the "CONDOR OPERATION" was the training of member countries special groups who travel to any part of the world, to countries not included in the agreement, in order to inflict punishment, including murder, on terrorists or supporters of terrorist organisations from member countries of the "CONDOR OPERATION". For example, if a terrorist or a supporter of a terrorist organisation of a member country of the "CONDOR OPERATION" was sighted in a European country, a special "CONDOR OPERATION" team would be sent to locate and trail the target, and a second group would be sent to inflict the punishment".

The Condor Plan formed part of the system designed by Pinochet Ugarte and his delegate Manuel Contreras to track down and deal with Chilean exiles abroad to the point of putting them to death or having them handed over so as to have them subsequently disappear.

FOUR: The foregoing shows that the criminal plan designed by Augusto Pinochet Ugarte and the other senior military personnel was drawn up in meticulous detail, and that its primary objective was the seizure of power in Chile. In this respect Augusto Pinochet, then Commander-in-Chief of the Armed Forces, together with the other accused, about 8.20 on 11 September 1973, demanded, under threat of violence, that the President elected in accordance with the Constitution, Salvador Allende, hand over power to the self-proclaimed illegal "Government of Commanders-in-Chief of the Armed Forces".

When this was rejected by the Head of State, they stormed the Palacio de la Moneda, the Headquarters of the Presidency of the Republic, by artillery and aerial bombardment, and around 13.45 the infantry entered to find the President dead.

That same night, a "Governing Junta of the Commanders-in-Chief of the Armed Forces and Forces of Order" was formed which was to be embodied in Decree-Law 1/1973 of 11 September 1973 and published in the Official Gazette of 18 September under the description "Establishment of Governing Junta" and Augusto Pinochet Ugarte was named its President, but the effective powers were held by the Governing Junta, which was to adopt resolutions unanimously. This situation was maintained by Decree-Law 527 of 17 June 1974 published on 26 June 1974 and until Decree-Law 806 of 17 December 1974 amending section 7 of Decree-Law 527 so as to make the President of the Governing Junta President of the Republic. All the acts described above were carried out outside the limits of what the Law established as the inherent powers of a Head of State, incurring clearly in illegality.

On 11 September 1973, Augusto Pinochet, together with the other accused, in order to initiate the plan designed, the first step of which was achieved with the military uprising, ordered the detention and subsequent disappearance - up to this day- of the following persons, the majority of whom were supporters of President Allende, who were taken from the Palacio de la Moneda and driven to the Tacna Regiment where they were tortured and subsequently taken out, presumably to be executed. Among these persons were nine advisers and members of the Presidency of the Republic and 15 members of the G.A.P. (Presidential Security Unit).

1. Jaime Barrios Meza, 47 years old, General Manager of Banco Central and Adviser to the President;

Immediately after being detained they were taken from the Presidential Palace to C/ Morandé where they were lined up together with their hands behind their heads against the facade of the Presidential Palace and then hurled face down on the ground. Around 17.00 they were ordered to stand up and a list of names and personal data was prepared. Some, such as Mr. Soto Guzmán, were told that they were being set free; however, others, among them all of those listed - the last 15, members of the Socialist Party-, had their arms and legs tied and were taken by truck to the Tacna Regiment in Santiago, and from there to an unknown destination.

As Mr. Soto Guzmán was informed by Colonel Castro while he was awaiting his personal fate in the Military Intelligence Service, the orders for the detention and torture of President Allende's associates were given by Augusto Pinochet.

Subsequently, in 1994 his body was identified, the death certificate stating that he died on 24 October 1973 due to a thoracic traumatism caused by bullets "on the public highway";

FIVE: The repression and selective elimination of persons of the same national group for ideological reasons, continued with greater or lesser intensity from 12 September 1973 onwards, following the orders of the Governing Junta, formed by Augusto Pinochet Ugarte, as President, Admiral José T. Merino Castro, Commander-in-Chief of the Navy; General Gustavo Leigh Guzmán, Commander-in-Chief of the Air Force; and General Cesar Mendoza Duran, Director General of the Carabineros, who continued to unanimously adopt decisions until 17 December

Due to protests about what had happened, General Lagos called General Arellano to account who furnished to him a document signed by the Commander-in-Chief of the Army Augusto Pinochet Ugarte in which he named him Special Delegate to review and accelerate proceedings being pursued in the Military Courts.

Subsequently General Lagos met Augusto Pinochet and informed him of the events but only received the reply that he try "to overcome the serious situation which has arisen in relation to public opinion" due to the impact of the executions which were not ordered by courts.

On 31 October 1973 General Lagos received a telex from COFFA -Commando of the Armed Forces created, outside the institutional organisation of the armed forces, directly under the control of Augusto Pinochet Ugarte, in order to facilitate, as later occurred with the DINA, abductions, executions and mass disappearances- ordering him to draw up a list of the executions in his area of jurisdiction. Since the list -which General Lagos personally presented to Pinochet Ugarte on 1 November 1973- included the 53 cases referred to in numbers 16 to 68 (sections B, C and D), he received an order that same night from Augusto Pinochet's Assistant to remove all reference to the commission by General Arellano, as Delegate of Augusto Pinochet, of the above-mentioned acts at Copiapó, Antofagasta and Calama. The new list was drawn up in the office of the Commander in Chief of the Army, Augusto Pinochet.

SEVEN: Although those specifically referred to and those who will be referred to in other Facts are mentioned here, it is necessary to list the disappeared, tortured and executed according to the Rettig Report and the Report of the National Corporation on Reparation and Reconciliation, attached to these proceedings, classified by districts and according to whether the acts were committed before or after the appointment of Augusto Pinochet Ugarte as President of the Republic on December 17, 1974, who is the person responsible for the acts described since he, together with the other members of the Governing Junta, had absolute control of the situation, eliminating any dissidence or dispute. In this list of persons, whose disappearance and deaths are attributed to them, the deceased who were victims of Political Violence (P.V.) have been excluded.

Abbreviations: Identity, sex, age, date of birth, profession, activity, number of identity document, date of kidnapping, place, date of assassination, place, page of Report. D.D. = Detained disappeared; CVR = Commission of Truth and Reconciliation or Rettig Report; CNRR = Corporation of National Reparation and Reconciliation.

DOCTORS:

According to the information available in the proceedings, this group was particularly persecuted and were victims of violent deaths, abduction followed by torture and disappearance, and 10% of the total doctors in Chile in 1973 were forced into exile. All of this formed part of a plan to deprive the University Faculties of Medicine, the Hospitals and the community in general of such an important group of professional leaders in the Nation.

* First of all, mention should be made of Doctor Salvador Allende Gossens, President of Chile, whose death was the subject of a preconceived plan and one of the main objectives of the military coup headed by Augusto Pinochet Ugarte.

Detained by DINA (Directorate of National Intelligence) officers on 4 August 1976 on the road between San Bernardo Parochial Hospital and San Francisco Student Polyclinic. He was taken to Villa Grimaldi. Nothing has since been heard of him, except that the license plate of his vehicle appeared inside the so-called Colonia Dignidad.
- * Doctor Eduardo González Galeno. Detained on 14 September 1973 together with his wife by members of the Chilean Air Force. He was taken to the Carabineros Office in Cunco and from there by air-force helicopter to Manquehul base. He has remained missing since then.
- * Doctor Arturo Hillerns Larrañaga. Detained on 15 September 1973 in Temuco. His whereabouts are unknown since then.

  - Doctor Carlos Lorca Tobar. Detained on 25 June 1975 on the public highway by DINA officers. Seen in Villa Grimaldi, and remains missing to date.

Doctor Enrique París Roa. Detained on 11 September 1973 by military personnel in the Palacio de la Moneda (see Fact 4, number 7). He suffered the same fate as Doctor Klein, but his remains were identified in 1994 in yard 29 of the General Cemetery where he had been buried as "NN" after having been tortured and shot in September 1973.

* Doctor Eduardo Paredes Barrientos. Arrested, the same as the above mentioned, in the Palacio de la Moneda on September 11, 1973 (Fact 4, number 6). In 1994 his remains were identified in yard 29 of the General Cemetery where he had been buried as "NN" after being tortured and shot in September 1973.

* Doctor Claudio Tognola Rios. Arrested on September 16, 1973 by agents of Investigations and Carabineros in the sector of the La Veleidosa mine. His body was recovered in 1990, destroyed by the effects of a blast of dynamite inside the mine.

Doctor Bautista Van Showwen Vassey. Arrested on September 13, 1973 in the Capuchinos Church in Santiago, by Carabineros and civilians. In 1991 evidence appeared that his body had been submitted to autopsy and sent to patio 29 of the General Cemetery as an "N.N." (non numbered).

Apart from the executions and disappearances of the above-mentioned professionals, a significant percentage - 10% - of doctors were obliged to abandon their profession, a 10% who were expelled and forced to live in exile, after being arrested and tortured, like so many other Chilean citizens, in order to save their lives, by imposition of the governing Junta led by Augusto Pinochet Ugarte.

The number of exiled doctors in these circumstances reaches 174, according to the list presented by the Medical College of Chile in this cause.

The governing Junta completed its persecution and cleansing of the medical profession by depriving a total of 131 doctors of their legitimately held posts in the Chilean National Service and the University of Chile, according to the list of the Medical College of Chile.

EIGHT: On March 11, 1974, the Chilean Government made public its declaration of Principles in which is stated that "the Junta believes that national unity is the most prized objective, and every concept is rejected which might represent, and foster, stubborn antagonisms between social classes. The Government will exercise with determination the principle of authority, drastically sanctioning any outbreak of indiscipline or anarchy." This new order showed the determination of the authorities to suspend and restrict public liberties basing themselves on a particular concept of National security which involved the use of secret police organizations or of the military institutions themselves, repressing the opposition, dismantling parties, controlling trades unions' activities and regulating the Universities.

Following this strategy the governing Junta created the Intelligence Services of Chile (DINA) by Decree Law 521 of June 14, 1974, which was the continuation of the Commission known by the same acronym and which had been created in November 1973.

According to this law, the DINA, whose Director was designated by that Supreme Decree, was "a military organism of a technical-professional nature, responsible directly to the governing Junta, and its mission shall be that of gathering all information at the national level from the different fields of action, with the aim of providing the intelligence required to formulate policy, develop plans and adopt measures to protect national security and the development of the country".

Nevertheless, DINA was a military organism directly responsible to the President of the governing Junta until December 17, 1974 and afterwards to the President of the Republic, in both cases Augusto Pinochet Ugarte. Therefore, what is stipulated in Decree Law 521 regarding the designation as its Director of an active General was never fulfilled, and throughout its existence the post of Delegate and Executive Director was held by Colonel Manuel Contreras, who owed loyalty and personal and absolute obedience to Augusto Pinochet, without any possibility whatsoever of taking decisions without the order and knowledge of the latter, to whom, according to the testimony of Contreras himself "I reported daily", and in respect of which "may be appreciated my absolute subordination and responsibility to the President of the Republic"; he adds: "I always complied...in accordance with the orders given to me by the President of the Republic. Only he, as the superior authority of the DINA, could arrange for, and order, the missions to be carried out and I always, in my capacity as Delegate of the President and Executive Director of the DINA, strictly obeyed what I was ordered to do. The President ordered that he be informed daily about important events which occurred and at the same time as normal practice he was kept informed permanently of the fulfillment of the orders given"; and always "I worked in a directly subordinated position to the President of the Republic and Commander in Chief of the Army, with no other intermediate authority"; finally, Colonel Contreras adds: "my direct responsibility to the Governing Junta and later on to the President of the Republic, represents a total endorsement of my correct and disciplined conduct, since the President knew exactly what the DINA and its Delegate and Executive Director did or did not do (...) the exercise of Full Command in a Military Institution does not involve being independent, since commanders have a Superior Command to whom they are responsible and to whom they are always accountable for the fulfillment of their missions and orders received. In my particular case this was the President of the Republic and that is why I say that I did not give myself orders, and that any mission to be carried out had to originate as it always did, from the President of the Republic."

As may be seen from the actions carried out in the Preliminary Proceedings, the real objective of the DINA, as a Criminal organization, was to repress and eliminate, following the orders emanating from President Pinochet Ugarte, those he considered political enemies and any other people included in the plan for selective elimination sponsored by the governing Junta when it took power on September 11, 1973, using effective means of destruction such as weapons of war, explosives and other diverse and equally appropriate means.

In the period 1974-1977, the DINA was almost exclusively responsible for repression, which it carried out by the technique of forced disappearance of persons. All the cases of Detained-Disappeared in this period followed the same pattern of prior planning and central coordination -designed by the DINA, whereby its agents wore civilian clothes, were selected from within the Armed Forces but acted outside the Institutional Authority structure of those Armed Forces- which, taken together, show a determination to exterminate certain categories of persons; those to whom might be attributed leadership of a political, religious, cultural, military, professional, social, etc. nature and who were opposed to those formulated by the dominant group led by Augusto Pinochet and the governing Junta over which he presided.

This Organization (DINA) was very strictly organized, with a regime of military discipline. Its members belonged to the Chilean army, although even civilians were given an equivalent military grade. Second in ranking to Colonel, later General, Contreras was Pedro Espinosa, who acted as director of operations on orders from Augusto Pinochet, and Eduardo Iturriaga was responsible for operations abroad.

For its criminal activities, the DINA used companies as covers and coded bank accounts in various countries in the world, and relied on agents based abroad for preparing actions undertaken in collaboration with other foreign services.

The DINA was dissolved in August 1977 and substituted by the Central Nacional de Informaciones (CNI) - National Information Center.

Acting simultaneously with the DINA, between the end of 1975 and the end of 1976, mainly in Santiago was the Joint Command (Comando Conjunto) which was responsible for the disappearance of numerous persons.

Also active were the Intelligence services of the different Armed Forces and Carabineros, such as SIFA (Intelligence Service of the Air Force, later called DIFA); the SICAR, Intelligence Service of the Carabineros, and the SIN, Naval Intelligence Service, all of which were responsible for the forced disappearance of persons within the same general framework of repression directed by the Governing Junta.

NINE: As has been said, the truth is that the DINA became a diabolical mechanism for the disappearance, torture and elimination of persons within and outside Chile, especially in Argentina where it obtained agreements of cooperation with the SIDE and the Federal Police, which allowed the clandestine transfer of detainees. At the same time it established relationships with extremist organizations like the Argentine "Triple A", offered refuge to Cuban nationalists who were then used to carry out attacks against Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffit in Washington D.C., or General Prats in Buenos Aires, amongst others and established relationships with extreme right-wing organisations in Europe such as "the Corsican Brotherhood" (France) or "Avanguardia Nazionale" (Italy) to carry out attacks in Europe.

As part of the criminal activity of the DINA, and within the so-called "Plan Condor", are the following cases, without attempting to list them all:

1. Edgardo Enríquez Espinosa, prominent activist of MIR AND BROTHER OF THE EXECUTED Secretary General of that Party, Miguel Enríquez, is kidnapped on April 10, 1976 in Buenos Aires (Argentina) as he was leaving a meeting one evening of the Revolutionary coordinating Junta; according to the Rettig Commission this person was under the protection of the UNHCR and was taken from some Argentine detention center to Villa Grimaldi in Santiago, and has not been heard of since.

The Vicaría de la Solidaridad - Archbishopric of Santiago: he had been seen in the Clandestine Detention Center (CCA) named Campo de Mayo and transferred to the CCD Monte Maravilla in Chile and during 1976 in the already mentioned Villa Grimaldi. Together with Edgardo Enríquez the disappeared Brazilian citizen Regina Marcondes and various other persons were arrested. On December 23, 1975, that is, four months before his capture, the DINA had already laid the trap around the top leader of the MIR and several other persons, ordering agents abroad to transfer them to Chile after capturing them. Moreover, a telex was sent stating that the mission had been completed. The DINA was responsible directly to Augusto Pinochet Ugarte.

2. On April 2nd, 1976 the arrest took place of Luis González MUÑOZ VELASQUEZ, ex-Secretary of the Local Section of the Socialist Party in San Bernardo and candidate for local Councillor (Regidor), together with Juan Humberto HERNÁNDEZ ZASPE, ex-President of the Federation of Industrial and Technical Students of Chile (FEITECH), and Manuel Jesús TAMAYO MARTÍNEZ, sociologist, socialist leader who worked closely with members of the Central Committee of his party, acting as "liaison" with Carlos Lorca, Ricardo Lagos, both also disappeared, and another socialist fraction, together with other Chileans in the public highway, in Mendoza, in the presence as witnesses of Luis Alfredo Concha, Jorge Álvarez Gallardo and Mauricio Muñoz Velázquez, brother of Luis Gonzalo.

The three kidnapped persons were friends and had arrived in Argentina in the course of 1974, having left Chile where they were being pursued for political reasons. They also worked together in the Modernfield company of Manuel Mendoza y Cia. and were in charge of reorganising a socialist coordinating body participating in the activities of the so-called Consensus Committee of the PS (Socialist Party).

In the military operation joint forces participated made up from the Argentine Federal Police and DINA agents.

The three arrested persons were taken by land from Mendoza to Villa Grimaldi towards the end of April 1976.

3. On April 15th, 1976, the arrest took place in Buenos Aires of students who were activists of the MIR, Frieda Elena LASCHAN MELLADO, married to the Chilean student Angel Omar ATHANASIU JARA and her recently born son Pablo ATHANASIU LASCHAN. Frieda had been arrested on September 13th 1973 in Lantaro (Chile), remaining for some days in the police station. She was then allowed to go free and arrested subsequently in Santiago de Chile, legal proceedings being initiated and finally dismissed. In March 1974 she joined Angel Omar Athanasiu Jara and they went to Juan Martín de los Andes (Nequequen-Argentina) until mid-1975. There they learned that they were being watched from Chile and they moved to Buenos Aires. As the result of receiving a letter, the family learned that the couple and the child had been arrested in Chile on April 15th, 1976. They are still disappeared.

4. On July 2nd, 1976 the arrest takes place in La Paz, Bolivia, of the agricultural accountant Julio del Tránsito VALLADARES CAROCA. He was handed over, together with other Chileans, to the Chilean authorities on the Charaña frontier on November 13th, 1976, since when there has been no further trace of him. The Ministry of the Interior acknowledges that the arrest took place, although - having been required to do so by a Court - it refused "exclusively for reasons of security" to identify the agents who arrested him.

5. In the early hours of July 16th, 1976, members of the Argentinian Army arrested in their apartment in the calle Córdoba in Buenos Aires the couple Guillermo TAMBURINI and María Cecilia MAGNET FERRERO. He was an Argentine doctor and member of the MIR, who had been resident in Chile for some years and had fled the repression unleashed after September 11th, 1973. She was a Chilean activist of the MAPU and a sociologist, having arrived in Argentine towards the end of 1973. In the course of the detention Guillermo Tamburini was wounded by a bullet.

6. On July 27th, 1976, 25 days after arriving in Argentina, Luis Enrique ELGUETA D AZ is arrested together with his companion CLARA HAYDEE and her sister CECILIA MARIA FERNANDEZ, both of Argentine nationality. He had taken refuge in that country after having been expelled from the School of Music of the Universidad de Chile owing to his involvement with the MIR in Santiago.

Before travelling he had left with a friend the address of a relative in the Argentine capital where he intended to stay. His friend, Sergio Fuenzalida, was arrested in Santiago by the DINA on June 28th, 1976, together with six other people, all of whom are now disappeared.

The Rettig Commission established that the victim, who was intensively looked for in Chile after the DINA operation which annihilated his group of friends in Santiago, was put at the disposal of DINA agents in Buenos Aires and disappeared.

7. In July 1976 Miguel Ivan ORELLANA CASTRO disappeared. He was 27 years old, a member of the MIR, and exiled in Cuba. The disappearance took place when the victim was on his way to Buenos Aires clandestinely for a political meeting.

8. On September 24th, 1976, the arrest takes place in the centre of Buenos Aires of the governess Rachel Elizabeth VENEGAS ILLANES, member of the MIR and nothing further has been heard about her since then. She had been indicted by the Military Prosecutor in Victoria and condemned to a long period of house arrest, after which she had left Chile. While in Buenos Aires she had obtained a visa for travel to Holland a few days before her arrest.

9. In July 1976 the arrest takes place of Patricio BIEDMA SCHADEWALDT, an activist of the MIR linked to the Revolutionary Co-ordinating Junta (Junta Coordinadora Revolucionaria) which the security bodies had detected.

Of Argentine nationality but fixed residence in Chile since 1968, the sociologist Patricio Biedma returned to Argentina after the 11th September, 1973 as the result of the political persecution to which he was subjected in Chile. He continued his political activity within the Chilean MIR, working together with the principal leaders of the movement.

There is evidence that Patricio Biedma was arrested in a "tooth-comb" operation in July 1976 in Buenos Aires and taken to various places , amongst them "Automotores Orletti" which was operated by the SIDE - an security agency with which the DINA maintained close relations -. On these premises Biedma was seen José Luis Bertazzo who declares his knowledge that Biedma was interrogated on various occasions by DINA agents who had travelled to the CCD "Automotores Orletti" especially for this reason.

The fate of this sociologist must be related to that of Edgardo Enríquez and Jorge Fuentes. During his captivity Patricio Biedma conveyed to Bertazzo his fear of being moved to Chile.

10. On August 3rd, 1976 the arrest took place in San Bernardo of the member of the Communist party Eduardo Enrique HERNANDEZ CONCHA, without anything being known of where he was held or of his fate after arrest.

11. On January 11th, 1977, José Luis APPEL DE LA CRUZ was kidnapped by a group of armed civilians in the public highway in the city of Cipolletti, Province of Neuquen, Argentina, in the presence of his wife Carmen Angélica DELARD CABEZAS and his daughter. Carmen Delard disappeared in the police station when reporting the disappearance of her husband.

12. On January 17th, a week later, her sister Gloria Ximana DELARD CABEZAS was arrested in her home in Buenos Aires together with her husband Roberto CRISTI MELERO and her two sons. Gloria Delard was pregnant of her third son and nothing is known of where they were held or of their fate after arrest.

The two sisters Carmen and Gloria Delard were, at the moment of their disappearance, students and members of the MIR of the Universidad de Concepción. Persecuted in Chile after September 11th, 1973, they accepted the offer made by a friend of the family, an ex-Army Colonel, to help them to cross the Chilean-Argentine frontier and had then settled respectively in Neuquen and Buenos Aires respectively.

13. Jorge FUENTES ALARCÓN, Chilean, Secretary of MIR for the region of Antofagasta, and member of the Central Committee. Sociologist by profession, 28 years of age, married and father of one son. The Chilean Security agents were looking for him since the end of 1973, so he had to flee to Argentina. On May 17, 1975 he was arrested by the Paraguayan Police and in September transferred clandestinely to Chile by DINA agents on a foreign mission within the actions related to the "Condor Plan". He was seen alive for the last time in Villa Grimaldi on January 13, 1976.

From what can be gathered from investigations carried out by Gladys Meilinges de Sannemann and from documentation in the "Terror of Paraguay" files, Jorge Fuentes Alarcón shared a cell in this country with the Argentine Amilcar Santucho, and was under the charge of Colonel Zeballos of the Chilean Air Force and the Head of the DINA.

In Villa Grimaldi, according to the testimony of Angeles Beatriz Alvarez C rdenas, wife of Gilberto Patricio Urbina Chamorro, prominent activist of MIR and detained like him in Villa Grimaldi, Fuentes Alarcón was referred to disdainfully as the "bug" and they had him locked up in a cage like an animal, his head shaven and ridden with lice, permanently on view like a beast.

From background information the conclusion can be drawn that the Argentine intelligence services also participated in the capture of the MIR leader, providing the information on Jorge Fuentes false passport.

There are multiple testimonies, which are in agreement with each other, about the time which Jorge Fuentes spent in Villa Grimaldi where he received medical attention for mange while, at the same time, they continued to torture him and submit him to degrading treatment.

14. On April 6, 1977 the ex-Director of Aeronautics of the Chilean Air Force, Jorge SAGAUTA HERRERA, 51 years of age, is arrested by Argentine security forces at the home of a friend of his in Buenos Aires. On searching the house, a list of Chilean political prisoners was found and he was taken away by the intelligence agents and disappeared.

15. Alexei Vladimir JACCARD SIEGLER, Chilean-Swiss citizen, by security services of the Chilean army in September 1973, released on December 21 of the same year, and travelled to Switzerland on that date.

On May 15, 1997, arriving from Milan to Buenos Aires, he stayed at the Bristol Hotel before carrying on to Santiago where he hoped to see his father.

Between the 16th and 17th he was arrested by federal police in the street and taken to police premises where he was interrogated and then taken to the Escuela Mec nica de la Armada (ESMA), and since then has been disappeared.

In the same operation Ricardo Ignacio RAMIREZ HERRERA, in charge of organization and finances of the Chilean Communist Party in Buenos Aires, and Hector Heraldo VELASQUEZ MARDONES, also an active Chilean communist were arrested. On the same day, Chilean and Argentine agents captured the three Chilean citizens and five Argentine members of the Chile Solidarity Committee in Argentina, who were acting as hosts to the Chileans. Until today the eight are disappeared.

The especially active role which the DINA and the Government of Chile played in this case began with the illegal triple arrest in foreign territory with the complicity of the Argentine security services, and ended with the handing over of false information to the Swiss diplomats who were looking for a Swiss national (Alexis Jaccard).

As for Ricardo Ramírez, the Chilean International Police falsely informed the Argentine Ministry of Foreign Affairs about the supposed trips of the victim, between 1977 and 1983. The request for this information had been made by the Tribunals of the Argentine Republic. Another report sent by the Police to this Commission, in agreement with the real facts, shows that the victim only travelled from Santiago to Germany in March 1976, date when he was able to leave as a political exile to settle in Hungary.

Subsequent to the triple arrest of the three Chilean activist communists in Buenos Aires, the Chilean and Argentine security organisms launched a considerable volume of false documents and information to cover up for each other faced with pressure from the Swiss government which insisted on knowing what had happened to a national in transit.

16. On May 23, 1977 Humberto CORDANO L PEZ, a male nurse, member of the Communist Party, had been exiled in Comodoro Rivadavia since September 11, 1973, was arrested on the date indicated above, in the vicinity of the Céntrico Hotel in Comodoro Rivadavia. A member of the Argentine Chile Solidarity Committee in that province, Humberto Cordano had helped a number of arrested Chileans and it was widely known that, as a result, he had been followed by DINA agents in this Argentine city until his arrest and disappearance.

17. On May 19, 1977, is arrested together with his spouse, Oscar Lautaro HUERAVILO SAAVEDRA, 23 years' old, employed, no political activity known, a young Chilean living in Buenos Aires, married to Argentine citizen Mirta Mónica ALONSO, six months' pregnant. The couple was seen in the Escuela Mecánica de la Armada (ESMA). The child was born in captivity and recovered by his grandmother. The couple continue disappeared.

18. On May 29, 1977, Matilde PESSA MOIS and her husband Jacobo STOULMAN BOERTNIK, both of Chilean nationality and with no political militancy or affiliation, were arrested on arrival of their flight from Santiago to Buenos Aires, before passing International Police control. Subsequent to their arrest a registration in their names was found in the Hotel Winston Palace in Buenos Aires, which at that time was used by the Argentine security services.

19. On May 19th, 1977, the arrest took place of José Liberio POBLETE ROA, a member of the Christians for Socialism community, together with his wife of Argentine nationality Marta Gertrudis HLACZIK and his eight-month old daughter Claudia POBLETE HLACZIK. This couple and their daughter disappear and there is testimony which indicates that they were in the detention centres El Olimpo of Buenos Aires, losing track of them in mid-1979. During this period in the CCD, the child was taken from the mother who was submitted to torture.

20. On September 11th, 1977, the arrest took place in barrio Quilmes, Buenos Aires, Argentina, of Cherif Omar AINIE ROJAS, Chemistry student in the University of that city, who had lived in the Argentine since her childhood. The day after, members of the Joint Armed Forces searched her home, taking the victim's identity card.

21. On January 10th, 1978, members of the Argentine police arrested Guido Arturo SAAVEDRA INOSTROZA, student of the University of Buenos Aires and employee of Textil Gloria. He has remained disappeared until this date.

This young University student had left Chile after September 11th, 1973, having been arrested in the Universidad Federico Santa Maria in Valparaiso. The information available enabled the Rettig Commission to establish that Guido Saavedra was the object of an illegal arrest and disappearance, which took place outside the national territory by agents of the State of Chile, or with their participation. Moreover, reference was made to the very close communication which existed between the Argentine and Chilean secret services at that time.

22. In 1978 the arrest takes place in Buenos Aires of the Chilean citizens Raúl TAPIA HERNANDEZ, Jaime Nury RIQUELME GANGAS and Luis ESPINOZA GONZALEZ. They were exiles, working legally in the Argentine and they disappeared in the context to which reference has already been made.

23. In April 1978 Carlos Patricio ROJAS CAMPOS, a Communist activist, disappeared. Up to 1977 he had been pursued in Calama and Tocopilla and then took refuge in Buenos Aires, maintaining regular contact with his family in Chile by letter. Since then they have had no news about him.

24. On July 26th, 1978, the disappearance took place in Argentina of Cristina Magdalena CARREÑO ARAYA, a Communist activist. She had reached that country from Hungary at the beginning of the month. On the 24th of the month she reported to the office of CEAS, an institution of the Catholic Church working in coordination with the UNHCR (ACNUR), in the federal capital that she felt she was being pursued and requested the status of refugee; according to the testimony of the witnesses who are a party to this case, Cristina was seen in the CCD "EL BANCO".

25. On January 27th, 1979 Oscar Orlando OYARZUN MANZO, an activist of the Communist Party of Chile, a refugee in Argentina since 1974, was kidnapped by agents dressed in civilian clothes and killed in the outskirts of Buenos Aires.

26. On February 19th, 1981, the arrest takes place on the Chilean-Argentine frontier in the sector of Paimún of the Chilean citizens, José Alejandro CAMPOS CIFUENTES, a nursing student and Luis QUINCHAVIL SUAREZ, an ex Mapuche leader, both activists of the MIR, when they tried to return to Chile clandestinely in the so-called "Operation Return" (Operación Retorno/Operación Naltame). They had been condemned previously by military courts in time of war (Consejos de Guerra) to penalties of deprivation of liberty which had been commuted to exile in 1975, as a result of which their return to the national territory was forbidden.

Alejandro Campos Cifuentes used a false identity document in the name of Fortunato Herrera A. On entering by the Huahum de Painun border, sector Valdívía and Nenquén from the Argentine side, he was arrested and handed over to agents of the CNI and mounted carabineros of Valdivia. They took him to the Intelligence Services of carabineros (SICAR-BICAR). He was taken to the Shooting Range (Campo de Tiro) de la Reina in Santiago de Chile and they dynamited his body. Luis Quinchavil Suarez met the same fate.

The background information which is known about these matters related to the CNI operations indicate that guerilla activities were brought to an end as a result in the sector of Neltume in 1981 and led the Rettig Commission to establish that José Campos and Luis Quinchavil had been arrested by Argentine gendarmes on the frontier and handed over by them to agents of national security, and disappeared while in their hands.

TWELVE: Within this same pattern of action by the DINA are included those other cases which have occurred outside the frontiers of Chile and that are of two types but also included in the "Condor Plan", within which is known as the "Colombo operation".

1. Persons detained-missing in Chile whose documentation has appeared next to bodies found in Argentina, although their real identity is not known and the final place of disappearance of the following persons is not known:

The common denominator of all of them is that they were detained by the DINA, they are disappeared at the present date, and the majority of their names (60 names) appear in an Argentine magazine LEA which only appeared once, without an editor responsible for it, whose address was false as was the information about the printer.

THIRTEEN: Forming part of the criminal operations carried out by the DINA within the so called "Condor Plan" - in accordance with the strategy already described of orders transmitted by Augusto Pinochet Ugarte to Manuel Contreras and by the latter to his subordinates and the execution of these orders by means of special agents sent abroad and sometimes assisted by the security services of countries included in "Condor" - a series of spectacular actions were carried out in pursuit of the elimination, within the plan for selective elimination determined by the governing Junta, of leaders who were opposed to "good order", most notably: General and ex-Commander-in-Chief of the Chilean Army and Vice-President of the Republic with Salvador Allende, Carlos Prats Gonzalez; the ex-Vice-President of Chile Bernardo Leighton; Senator Carlos Altamirano, Secretary General of the Socialist Party of Chile; and the ex-Minister of Defence of Chile, Orlando Letelier

1.- On September 30th, 1974, at approximately 0.50 hours in C/Malabia y Segui, Buenos Aires at a point close to the home of General Carlos Prats Gonzalez and his wife Sofia Cuthbert Chiarleoni, DINA agents, complying with orders received from Manuel Contreras and Augusto Pinochet, operated the remote control which activated the explosive charge which had previously been placed underneath the Fiat 600 vehicle, licence C 949.958 occupied by the couple, causing their immediate death due to traumatic destruction and multiple viscero-muscular lacerations and internal and external hemorrhages.

The explosive used showed similarities to those which were used in the action against Orlando Letelier to which reference is made later.

2. On October 6th, 1975. the ex-Vice-President of Chile Bernardo Leighton, founder of the Christian Democrat Party, and his wife Ana Fresno were the objects of an attack with fire arms by agents of the DINA, amongst them Michael Vernon Townley, following orders given by his superiors Eduardo Iturriaga Newman and Manuel Contreras Sepúlveda which the last of those named had received from Augusto Pinochet Ugarte. Moreover, the services were used of an extreme right wing group called Avanguardia Nazionale. This took place in Rome...and as a result of the bullet wounds in his cranium, Bernardo Leighton Guzmán suffered serious encephalic wounds; the sequelae were serious intellectual deterioration, a motor deficit on the right side of his body which provoked difficulties in movements, aphasia which provoked difficulties in speaking; epileptic attacks; difficulties in swallowing. From the moment of his return to Chile until his death he required permanent medical attention to treat the diverse pathologies derived from the attack.

For her part, Ana Fresno Ovalle was hit by a bullet in the cervical region which partially destroyed the cervical vertebrae. The injuries caused her a spastic paraparesis and pain for which there was no treatment. After intensive treatment she was able to walk again for short distances and taking small steps using orthopaedic equipment. The definitive sequelae are spastic paraparesis and pains which prevent her from leading a life with normal social relationships.

It has been established that those responsible within the DINA, both Iturriaga and Contreras, expressed their satisfaction at the success of the operation because, although Bernardo Leighton had not died, the seriousness of his injuries was such that they made him "inoffensive" in relation to the objective which he had in mind, according to them and to Augusto Pinochet - as their military and political superior - the presumed unification of the opposition groups in exile.

3.- In 1975 DINA agents travelled to France to locate and follow the movements of exiled Chileans and, especially, of Senator Carlos Altamirano, Secretary General of the Socialist Party of Chile. To carry out these actions they contact criminal organisations in France. Thus, there is evidence of contacts and collaboration with the "Corsican Brotherhood" organisation, according to the investigations of the American prosecuting attorney Barcela.

Also, in that same year 1975 and on the occasion of the visit to Madrid of Augusto Pinochet Ugarte and Manuel Contreras for the funeral of the Spanish Head of State at that time, Francisco Franco, they had a meeting with one of the members of the Italian group which had been closely connected with the attack on Bernardo Leighton called Stefano de la Chiaie who cooperated with the DINA in actions abroad such as the one described.

4.- Orlando Letelier del Solar, lawyer and economist, was a senior staff member of the Inter-American Bank, with headquarters in Washington D.C. until in October 1970 he was appointed Chilean Ambassador to the United States. Subsequently he was designated Minister of Foreign Affairs, Interior and Defence from July until September 11th, 1973.

On September 11th, 1973 he was arrested in his Ministry, that of Defence. Held first in the Military School (Santiago), a few days later he was interned in the Dawson Island (Magallanes) concentration camp, obliged to carry out forced labour and subjected to humiliating treatment over a period of a year. Through the mediation of Venezuela he was liberated in October 1974.

In 1975 and 1976 he lived in the United States where he was appointed Director of the Institute for Policy Studies, headquartered in Washington D.C.

As an ex-Ambassador to the United States, he had the status of a protected person, as was expressly recognised in the resolution included in the proceedings which were carried out in Washington D.C. in connection with his death.

Ronni Moffit was a citizen of the U.S.A., a researcher of the Institute for Policy Studies, married.

At the beginning of September 1976 the Military Junta issued a decree, depriving Mr. Letelier of his Chilean nationality, on the pretext that he was promoting initiatives in the U.S.A. and Europe directed to the re-establishment of democracy in Chile.

Orlando Letelier del Solar and Ronni Moffit were killed on September 21st, 1976 on Embassy Row, the street of the embassies in Washington, as the result of the explosion of a bomb similar to that which killed General Prats, which the DINA agent William Vernon Townley, carrying out orders of the DINA Director Manuel Contreras who, in turn, was carrying out those of Augusto Pinochet, had placed below the driver's seat and which was activated by remote control by anti-Castro Cubans who had been contracted by DINA.

5. In the framework of the actions designed to be carried out in other countries (Condor Plan) by DINA, Manuel Contreras, its Director, instructs the agent William Vernon Townley - who formed part of the "Avispa" or "Mulchen" group, a quasi-secret section of DINA, which was responsible directly to the Director and which was used by him for special projects, always by order of Augusto Pinochet Ugarte - to travel to Spain in November 1976, having heard that Senator Carlos Altamirano was there, Secretary General of the Socialist Party of Chile, who had already been followed in Mexico and France, "to see what can be done with Altamirano".

Townley, together with other agents, received orders from Pedro Espinoza Bravo, second in command to Manuel Contreras, given by phone, to kill the Senator. After preparing the action, Townley decides not to carry it out, although Espinoza was urging him to do so, because he considered it was "suicidal" given the victim's security measures.

6.- In that same period DINA agents travelled to Portugal to prepare attacks which were frustrated by the fact that the CIA detected them.

7. - Guillermo Roberto Beausire Alonso, of double British-Chilean nationality, Economics student, was arrested on November 2nd, 1974 in the Airport of Ezeiza (Buenos Aires) by the Argentine police who handed him over to DINA, who held him in the detention centres José Domingo Cañas, Villa Grimaldi, Vendo Seky (also known as the Discotheque) where all trace of him is lost after June 2nd, 1975.

8. - Jean Yves Claudet Fernandez, French-Chilean, is arrested on November 1st, 1975 in the Libery Hotel of Buenos Aires and executed in Argentina with the participation of the DINA.

9.- Jorge Isaac Fuentes Alarcón, who has already been mentioned, is arrested on May 16th, 1975 together with Amilcar Santuchu, taken to Asunción and from there to Villa Grimaldi where he arrives with mange and sequela of torture. He has remained disappeared since then.

FOURTEEN: In August 1977 the DINA was dissolved and was substituted by the Central Nacional de Informaciones (CNI), which initially, until November 1977, kept the same structures and even staff as the DINA. Between November 1977 and mid-1980 there was a fall in the number of disappearances and deaths of persons as a result of the repression. As from 1980 DINA reacted to the action of other armed organizations by a recrudescence of the repression; and, although the number of disappearances dropped, those that did take place were carried out on a very much more selective basis aimed at members of MIR, FPMR and the PC (Communist Party).

As with its predecessor DINA, the CNI was a Government agency located in the Ministry of the Interior, which carried out intelligence tasks and illicit actions abroad similar to those of the DINA. In the report of the Commission already referred to, the majority of the 160 deaths between 1978 and 1990 were attributed to the CNI, in a period when other organizations of the Security Forces engaged in repression were also active, namely Comando Vengadores Militares (COVERMA) and the Communications Directorate of the Carabineros (DICOCAR).

FIFTEEN: As for repressive methods and specifically the practice of torture, humiliations and maltreatment, the system was universal and generalized from the very moment of the arrest irrespective of age or sex, although especially accentuated when it referred to certain collective groups, as for example Jews and the Mapuche natives.

I/ From the first moment of the military coup and in the subsequent months, the treatment received by the detainees was vile and continued to be so while they were in the detention centers which functioned with the authorization and consent of the governing Junta, presided over by Augusto Pinochet, using varied techniques ranging from violent and continuous beatings to the fracturing of bones and the spilling of blood, as well as keeping the detainees face downwards on the floor or standing up, naked, under constant light, or with their heads covered by hoods, tied up, shut up ("tabicados") or in niches, that is to say in cubicles so narrow that they could not move; denial of food, water, cover or similar necessities; hanging from their arms, suspended in the air; procedures of semi-asphyxiation in water, malodorous substances and excreta; application of electricity on testicles, tongue and vagina; systematic rape; simulated execution and other refined methods of torture like the well known "Pau de arara" which consisted in hanging up their bodies over long periods of time.

The detention centers where torture was most intensively practised were: the former airport of Cerro Moreno in Antofagasta; ships belonging to the Navy or under its control, in Valparaíso; Mariquina Island and Fuerte Borgoño, in Concepción; the Air Base of Maquielma, in Tomingo, and various Regiments, police stations, reserve corps (retenes), airfield centers and airplanes throughout the country, the National Stadium, the Chile Stadium, the Air War Academy in Santiago. The police station in Rahue in Osorno; or the Prison Camp of Pisagua where Nelson M rquez Augusto, a militant of the Communist Party was executed on January 18, 1974. The torture was so atrocious that he went mad, tried to flee and after being captured was executed.

The torture was watched over and directed by doctors wearing hoods who attended the victims so that they would not die as a result of those tortures.

II/ Between 1974 and 1977 the following dentention and torture centers were in operation:

A) Locations of the DINA:

1. Tejas Verdes. 2. Cuatro Alamos. Here there was no access for persons other than the DINA. It had a series of small and incommunicated cells. 3. Londres n° 38, located in the center of Santiago.: 4. José Domingo Cañas, in Santiago: 5. Villa Grimaldi, in Santiago, was the most important detention and torture Center of the DINA, which had specially designed artefacts for the torture of detainees. In this detention Center there was an area known as the Tower in whose interior had been built about ten compartments of 70x70 centimeters and two meters high, with a low door which they had to enter on their knees. In this Tower there was a torture room. The majority of the detainees who went there were not seen again; other areas were the "Chile Houses", constructions of wooden planks where the person had to remain on foot. The "Corvi Houses" were small wooden boxes built into a larger room in which the person remained upright for several days.

The torture sessions were practiced by specialist agents, and other officers carried out the interrogations, although they sometimes also participated in the torture.

The most commonly used form of torture was the "parrilla" (grill) which consisted of a metal table on which the victim was laid naked and tied by his extremities and then electric charges were applied to lips , genitals, wounds or metal prostheses; two people, relatives or friends, were placed in metal boxes, one on top of the other so that when the person above was tortured, the other felt the psychological impact; on other occasions the victim was hung by the wrists and/or the knees to a bar and during the lengthy period he remained like that, electric currents were applied to him, cutting wounds were inflicted or he was beaten; at other times the person s head was immersed in dirty water or other liquids; or they used the "submarino seco" method, i.e., placing a bag over the head until close to suffocation; drugs were also used, and boiling water was thrown over various detainees as punishment and as a foretaste of the death which they would later suffer. 6. La Discotheque or La Venda Sexy; 7. Implacante, 8. Cuartel Venecia, all in Santiago; 9. Cuartel General in C/. Belgrano n° 11; and Rinconada Maipú, both in the proximity of Santiago; 11. Clinics of the DINA; 12. Colonia Dignidad, owner of the property or "El Lavadero" where agents of the DINA practised torture and made several detainees disappear; 13. La Casa del Parral in the town of the same name, 14. Military Hospital and other localities of the Armed Forces and forces of Order and Security.

B) Locations of the SIFA and of the Joint Command:

Amongst others, these stand out:

1. Air War Academy (AGA) between end of 1973 and end of 1974. The average of persons held in detention during 1974 was between 70 and 80. Torture was practiced on the second floor or in the chapel, and consisted of the introduction of splinters or pointed objects under the nails, hanging by "pau de arara", heads hooded, and all types of beatings. Among the personas who underwent this treatment were General Bachelet and José Luis Baeza Cruces, member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party.; 2. Casa de Apoquindo, in Santiago; 3. Hangar in Cerrillos; 4. Nido 20; 5. Nido 18; 6. Remo Cero: Anti-aircraft Artillery Regiment in Colina; 7. La firma.

III/ Between August 1977 and 1990, the Central Nacional de Informaciones (CNI), the DICOMCAR and COVEMA systematically practised torture on detainees on a more selective basis than the DINA. The main methods continued to be: electricity applied to sensitive parts of the body, immersion of head in water, almost to the point of asphyxiation, and beatings. Sometimes the torture led to the death of the victim.

SIXTEEN: Torture was applied to more than 500,000 people, and because the list would be endless, in the following pages a series of cases are enumerated, especially significant as to the tortures inflicted, within what was a generally applied system, established, approved and encouraged by the members of the Governing Junta, presided over by Augusto Pinochet and carried out by his subordinates.

1. - On 11 September 1973 Marcos Roberto Roitman Rosenman was arrested and taken to the Chile Stadium. There, along with other detainees carried on the same bus, he was forced to get out and then to jump up and down continuously under the threat of whipping if he stopped, which consisted of lashing the victim's feet with barbed wire. This punishment was inflicted afterwards. During all this time the detainees lived in a state of intense fear; they were told they were there because they were Marxists and communists, they were not citizens nor people and that at any time the new military law could be applied and they could be shot with no reason given.

Various citizens bled to death in the stadium as a result of gunshot wounds without receiving any medical help. Likewise a number of detainees jumped from the second floor of the stadium suffering skull fractures. During the first few days they were interrogated to establish exactly where they had been arrested and then sent to different locations according to the answers, Thus the people detained in the State Technical University were then moved to the National Stadium. On arrival they were given their first meal in four days, consisting of bread and a cup of coffee and then separated into various groups in the interior of the building, with other citizens of differing ages, sex, and social positions. Marcos Alberto Roitman was interrogated for the first time on 18 September and as soon as he gave his age and said he was a student at the Technical University he received a punch in the face of such force that he was knocked to the ground. This victim along with the rest, was subjected to various sessions of interrogation, when he was given the names of people and on saying he did not know them was beaten repeatedly with a pick handle and iron bars. There was a general feeling of terror and the constant sound of screaming from the tortured detainees led to cases of some victims losing their mind, faced with the incomprehensible and staggering situation they found themselves in, given that they did not know why they had been arrested.

The Commandant of the place, who says he is obeying orders of the Chief of the Armed Forces, - Augusto Pinochet Ugarte - again told the detainees that they are not persons, they have no rights nor protection under the Constitution. In the meantime the soldiers subjected them to constant psychological torture, threatening to shoot them with a machine gun known as Hitler s Electric Saw because one burst would cut a person in two.

Torture was implemented in a systematic and generalised fashion under the express orders of Augusto Pinochet Ugarte and the rest of the military leaders and was developed through the most varied techniques. That this is so is verified by an analysis of the meeting that took place in the second half of 1974 between Augusto Pinochet, the Bishop of the Lutheran Evangelical Church in Chile, Helmut Erich Walter Frenz, and the Catholic Bishop, Fernando Ariztia, both of them in their capacity as Joint-Presidents of the Pro-Peace Committee (Comité Pro Paz), during which they delivered an exhaustive dossier on cases of systematic torture carried out by members of the DINA on detainees. Sr. Pinochet, asked the clerics, causing them some perplexity, if when they spoke of physical harassment - an expression that they had used earlier - they were referring to torture, to which they answered yes; at this point, Augusto Pinochet, after leafing through the document and slowly studying it said: You are priests and enjoy the luxury of being merciful. I am a soldier and President of the whole Chilean Nation, whose people have been attacked by the bacillus of communism and they must be eradicated, the communists and marxists, they must be tortured because otherwise they will not sing''.

During this meeting Bishop Ariztia asked what had happened to Father Antonio Llidó, a priest of Spanish nationality who had disappeared. Pinochet Ugarte replied in a harsh tone "He is not a priest, he is a communist or marxist", equating this concept with the need for execution or extermination in that they are not considered as human beings and, therefore, they can be tortured and eliminated.

Following this line of thought, it is a question of wiping out any religious discrepancy that may be united to, or close to, the above categorisation (Marxism, socialism) and which differs from the particular concept of religion that the members of the Governing Junta hold.

Thus the group "Christians for Socialism", - whose members were principally priests and catholic citizens who thought that Socialism is nearer to the Scriptures than Capitalism - was systematically persecuted, forcing the members who were not captured to go into hiding or to flee the country, as happened both with its leaders, Gonz lez Arroyo, Mariano Puga, and with those who simply members, numbering almost one hundred, who with the help of the bishops and the ambassadors managed to escape.

2.- Antonio Llidó Mengual was arrested during the last days of September 1974 and confined in the Detention Centre in Calle José Domingo Cañas, installations belonging to the DINA.

He was subjected to torture, including the application of electric current to his genital organs and repeated physical beatings of his whole body, leaving him with various fractured ribs. He was also the victim of sado-sexual aggression tortures because he was a priest. During the period he was the victim of tortures he received no medical assistance whatsoever. They forced him to sing songs which the priest did to try and comfort the other prisoners. The degradation to which he was subjected reached the limit when he was forced to lie on the ground behind another detainee, a girl called "LUMI VIDELA MOYA" and the soldiers said "perhaps you will feel better that way because all you priests are queers". At all times the bearing of the priest was courageous and he comforted the rest of the prisoners, sharing with them the food the guards gave him to live on, scraps of bread and fruit peels.

On 12 October 1974 or thereabouts, Father Llidó was taken to the Cuatro Alamos Detention Centre, also run by the DINA, and confined with other people, for example HERMAN EUGENIO SCHWEMBER FERN NDEZ in what was known as "Room 13" in that concentration camp. On or about 26 October 1974 Father Llidó was taken aside with a group of 12 or so other prisoners, among them JUAN ALFREDO GAJARDO WOLFF, the brothers ANDRONICUS ANTEQUERA and ARIEL SALINAS, and all of them were made to disappear.

Father Llidó, was born in Valencia (Spain) and was working in the parish of Quillota in the Valparaiso Diocese. He had arrived in Chile as a priest forming part of a pastoral mission, and became involved in various civic activities with his parishioners, and that is the reason he was tortured and then disappeared at the hands of members of the DINA, who were acting on the orders of their superiors, whose supreme commander in the hierarchical structure is Augusto Pinochet Ugarte.

3. Marta Lidia Ugarte Rom n, member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Chile was arrested by DINA agents on 9 August 1974 and taken to Villa Grimaldi. Nothing was known of her until her corpse was discovered in September 1976, with clear signs of having undergone severe torture before being killed.

According to eye witnesses, she was suspended in a pit from a pole, had her finger nails and toe nails pulled out, and had her hair burned. Likewise according to the autopsy reports her body had been thrown from a considerable height, judging from the disintegration of various parts of her body.

4.- José Marcelino González Malpu, arrested with the rest of his family on 29 October 1976, his brother has not been seen since. He was subjected to torture, comprising application of electric current to his genitals, shoulders and ankles. He had water thrown over him beforehand to make the pain more intense. His ears were beaten, they placed his mother, naked, in front of him and went through the motions of shooting her.

5.- Pedro Hugo Arellano Carvajal was arrested together with his father following the bombing of the building that housed the radio station which was identified as belonging to the Socialist Party.

From the time they were detained they were subjected to multiple tortures; he was tied to a metal bed and his hands were forced against an electrified metal plate, with the victim being thrown back across the room from the shock. Apart from the electrical torture he was subjected to beatings in 10 different locations and finally in prison. Apart from those blows, he was ill-treated in ten different places and finally in the prison. Apart from the electric current electric wires were attached to his chest, his penis and his toes. In another place he was tied to a tree and whipped. He was pushed along a corridor and beaten all the way. He was put on board a helicopter, and pushed out with ropes tied to his trousers, and flown through thorns. On landing, he was thrown onto the tarmac lying face down with his hands tied. In the same centre they tied him to a rope and lowered him into a water well and left him until he was practically drowned, then pulled him out, asked various questions and since he didn't answer lowered him back into the well. They also played Russian roulette with him which consisted of blindfolding him, and the soldiers would place a pistol or machine gun against his head and simulate shooting him. On occasions they shot a gun right next to his head and he could feel the explosion of air. In Belloto they placed an apple on his head and started to shoot near it. Previously the base chaplain had asked them if they wanted to commend their souls to God, lending himself to the torturers games. In the naval hospital in Ormue under the orders of Pedro Arancibia he is forced to take all his clothes off as were the Rodríguez family who had been arrested with their sons. They forced the sons to lie on the ground and the father to lie on top of them and make sexual movements in such a way that the father penetrated the elder son and the other son penetrated his young brother. Pedro Arellano was forced to lie on top of one of the children and obliged to do the same as the father had done.

The marines who were directing these sessions stood over the victims, with a bayonet pressed against the nape of their necks, threatening to blow their heads open if they did not penetrate the boys. Afterwards they were all marched down a corridor completely naked, and beaten continuously. One of the marines opened up the anus of one of the boys with a bayonet and cut him. Pedro Arellano, apart from the Rodríguez family, witnessed beatings and other physical abuse performed on D. Celestino Saenz del Río, a Spanish citizen and member of the Socialist Party. He also saw approximately 500 people being tortured. The tortures were performed by the military who would throw stones at the heads of the older victims for half an hour and make them run along on their knees across the rocks that were on the Belloto runway.

6.- Gladys Nelida Diaz Armijo was arrested in Santiago de Chile on 20 February 1975 together with Juan Carlos Perelman who is still disappeared. She was taken to Villa Grimaldi, a clandestine detention centre under the orders of the DINA, controlled by Manuel Contreras and Augusto Pinochet Ugarte, where she was kept for two years and three months. During the first three months of her detention in secret GLADYS NELIDA DIAZ ARMIJO was subjected to systematic sessions of electric shock torture, each lasting between three and four hours, with a two hour break in between sessions, continuing throughout the night and day.

The sessions took place during the first three days when she was tied up without being given any food. Immediately after, she was beaten by a karate expert who left her with four broken ribs, broken tympanum and extensive internal and external bleeding. Later she was suspended from the ceiling by a rope tied around her wrists and again subjected to electric shock. She was kept hanging this way for a day and a half. Subsequently she was subjected to drugs being injected, pentathol and "curare" over a period of three months, alternating between interrogations, drugs, and electric shocks. The tortures were constant, with no relief at week ends and she lost 15 kilograms in weight as a result of this treatment. What is more, the sessions were carried out with medical supervision; they would check her heartbeat to see if she could withstand greater doses of electricity. She suffered two respiratory failures as a result of the torture inflicted. The longest time she had been allowed to sleep during these first three months was one night, at the end of the first month, and until then they had only allowed her one or two hours of continuous sleep. The sanitary conditions were atrocious as she was not allowed to bath or wash her hair nor allowed any form of protection during menstruation, in an attempt to reduce her to the level of an animal. During some time she was kept in a chamber called "The Tower" where the cell she was confined in measured sixty by eighty centimetres by one metre long, with no door and the only opening a narrow gap in one wall near the floor; to enter and exit she had to wriggle like a snake. During her confinement she was blindfolded, had chains on her feet and was handcuffed, and the handcuffs were only removed when she ate. During her stay in the Centre, the detainee Cedomil Lausic, aged 21, was beaten to death with chains and together with two other persons she was forced to watch him die over a three day period. In addition, Isidro Arias, a cellist with the Philharmonic was killed by bullet in his head at the door of his cell.

7.- Luis Enrique Peebles Skarnic, arrested between 2 and 9 February 1975 in the Colonia Dignidad was tortured by DINA agents. He was suspended in the "Pau de Arara" fashion, meaning hands and feet together tied behind the back. The torture comprised the methods already described and others, where he was shut in a wooden box which narrowed at a point where they beat him with sticks. He witnessed the death of the Mayor of Cacieta, also detained, and of Manuel Elías Jana Sanibañez and those of the journalist Jose Carrasco, and Eric Zott, who were all beaten to death with rifle butts.

8.- Alfredo Carlos Walter Mingram, a retired officer of the Armed Forces was arrested at his home on 15 November 1976. On that day, in Pasaje Irene N° 365, Ampliación Villa Dulce Norte, in Miraflores Alto, Viña del Mar he was intercepted by a small, dark-skinned obese individual who spat out the words "there is an order to investigate you" while pointing to a blue station wagon with the N° 0125 painted on the doors, and next to it four individuals, one very tall and obviously wearing a wig who leapt on him, tied him up and placed him in two sacks, securing them tightly. "immediately afterwards, once I was out of the apartment they started to beat me, kick me and hit me with the enormous guns they were carrying while the vehicle was being driven through the streets of Viña del Mar and Valparaiso".

"Once out of Valparaiso the vehicle began to climb and I realised we were going to the highest sector of Playa Ancha - later the smell of the sea air and the sound of the seagulls warned me that they were going to kill me so I said if you are going to kill me, shoot me to which they responded, with more blows WE ARE NOT GOING TO WASTE BULLETS ON YOU, YOU BLOODY MARXIST and various other insults. The vehicle stopped, I was dragged out and thrown down a gully, inside a sack. I fell, hitting many rocks on the way down, but fortunately without hitting my head. The individuals finally let me out of the sack after picking me from the bottom of the gully and, using foul language, took me back to the vehicle where I was forced to lie face down on the floor and drove me away to the Investigations Barracks in Viña del Mar."

In the prison I was taken out and stripped on the ground in the courtyard where three women, dressed up as "bunnies" prodded my body with long poles before forcing me to dress up in a clown costume and taking me to a room on the first floor in the North-East corner of the prison where they forced me to lie on a "horse" ("potro") immobilising me with straps around my wrists - I imagine they applied electric current because I always felt a tingling in my wrists. They then took me, still naked, to some old sheds on the eastern side of the courtyard". There he was tied with wire to the back of a rough pine bench. The wire cut into his flesh. From the early hours of 16 November until 16:00 he was left sitting in his own blood and excrement, tied to the bench by wire cutting into his flesh, his arms crossed, right collar bone dislocated, without any one of the numerous uniformed police - CARABINEROS - doing anything to bring the situation to an end.

9.- Miguel Woodward, a catholic priest, was arrested in September 1973 and put on board a prison ship.

Of the 800 prisoners who were on board the ship, approximately a dozen were priests. Miguel Woodward was considered by the Naval officers as "the most dangerous of the prisoners" because he belonged to a group called "Christians for Socialism" and had been working for more than 10 years in the poorest parts of Valparaiso, helping people to find work and organising lessons for the children.

The prisoners were tortured in groups. The sessions always began with a shower. While they were still wet, electrodes were attached to various parts of the body, and current switched on. Then they were thrown against tables and beaten.

Father Woodward had both arms broken in two places by a hammer, and the whole of his body was beaten black and blue. The prisoners were left without food for days on end although on occasions they were given beans infected with worms. The broken arms and broken ribs of Father Woodward receive no medical attention and in front of other people he and the other priests are accused of sleeping with women. For many days he resisted, his body broken inside, and finally he died.

10.- Dr. EDUARDO PAREDES BARRIENTOS, profession doctor and surgeon and adviser to the President of the Republic, D. Salvador Allende, was arrested in the Presidential Palace on 11 September 1973 together with other people. At 18:00 h. they were all driven to the Tacna regimental barracks in two military vehicles. They were kept in this precinct until the 13. The members of the group composed of the President of the Republic's advisers and those belonging to the GAP (personal bodyguards) with their hands and feet tied, were put on board military lorries and driven away to an unknown destination. However the military vehicle heads towards Peldehue, to the garrison of the Tacna regiment, where they were possibly executed and buried.

The mortal remains of EDUARDO PAREDES BARRIENTOS were identified in July 1995 in a common grave on Plot 29 in the Santiago de Chile general cemetery. The autopsy revealed the tortures to which he was subjected after his arrest by agents of the State. His vertebral column was fractured, he had suffered broken wrists, pelvis, ribs and skull, and homicidal burns - from a blowlamp or flame thrower - to the chest, shoulders, throat and part of the face, that left marks on the bone structure, even on the teeth.

11.- Irma del Carmen Parada Gonz lez, was arrested on 27 October 1973. She was driven away with José Carrasco who was tortured even before they arrived and she heard his screams. She was received by an officer called Peter who appeared to have good manners She was left in solitary confinement for two days but could hear the constant screams of the other prisoners produced by the torture.

On the third day they started to interrogate her in a room, they stripped her of all her clothes, applied the "telephone" and electric current to the mouth, vagina and breasts. She was raped by two individuals. On the fourth day they put her hands in a liquid and then introduced them into a machine, whereupon she fell unconscious. When she regained consciousness, she found herself in a pit among dead bodies and wet straw.

She was later allowed outside with other prisoners, and witnessed the arrival of Doctor Hector García, paediatrician from the Buin Hospital, who was tortured up to unspeakable limits and subsequently executed.

During the time of her detention she ate nothing, although at one stage she was given a plate of putrid food. "At this point one detainee shouted that they were giving her the remains of her own dead companions, because he could see an ear in the soup. Immediately afterwards they heard gunfire and presumably they shot the detainee in question".

12.- Mariela Albrecht Schwarz. Arrested on 29 April 1974. She was beaten and threatened with Russian roulette. She was later stripped and beaten in a chamber. Another day she was taken up into a sort of garrett and forced to take "aspirins" and tranquillisers which produced a state of muscular paralysis. In the condition that these drugs induced she was interrogated by a "hypnotist" and then dragged downstairs again by two agents. That night, while she was unable to move, she was raped by a guard. The following day she was stripped again for electric shock torture but on seeing she had been raped they dressed her again. Ten days later she was taken away to the Chile Stadium.

13.- Domingo Ignacio Cadín Cruces. Arrested on 29 June 1974 by DINA agents. From the beginning he was repeatedly beaten over all parts of his body, subjected to psychological attacks and threatened with all his family being killed. Electric current was applied to various parts of his body, (head, teeth, anus, penis, stomach, testicles, both feet) and he was blindfolded and gagged. On protesting that his father had been tortured the same way he was beaten savagely.

14.- Laura Eugenia Rodríguez Fernández. Arrested on 30 April 1974 she was also taken to the installations in Calle Londres 38, together with Guadalupe Santa Cruz. The day after arriving at this torture centre she was raped and subjected to electric shocks, using the technique known as "the grill". She was finally transferred to the Chile Stadium where her son Alfredo was brought to her on a stretcher with the aim of exerting psychological pressure.

15.- Roberto Francisco Merino Jorquera. Arrested on 11 May 1974. He was blindfolded and taken to a building in the centre of the city. There he was stripped, tied to a metal bed and subjected to electric shocks. He was then taken to another room containing a number of other detainees, where he was tied to a chair and left until 13 May 1974. During this time a plastic bag was placed over his head with the intention of suffocating him.

16.- Adriana Luz Pino Vidal. Arrested on 12 June 1974. Every day she stayed in the installations she was subjected to electric shock sessions, applied to her vagina, ears, hands, soles of the feet and mouth; she was also beaten about the face with a knuckleduster and cigarettes were stubbed out on her stomach. Likewise the threat was made that they would go and arrest her eldest daughter and rape the daughter in front of her. Since she was pregnant she suffered constant vaginal haemorrhage and on three occasions was taken to a military hospital where a doctor with the rank of colonel attended to her. As a result of the torture, 40 days after being detained, when she was in the Cuatro Alamos camp, she suffered an abortion.

The same day that she returned from her last visit to the military hospital, when she looked through the window of the cell she was in, in "Londres 38", she saw how a large van drive into the courtyard, which is used as a vehicle park and how a detainee was taken out of it and forced to lie on the ground, whereupon the van was driven over his legs. He was then dragged away by the legs by Osvaldo Roma in order to cause him greater pain. This person was known by his surname, Van Schowen

17.- Adriana Urrutia Asenjo. Arrested on 8 August 1974. She was moved to various detention and torture centres, such as Londres 38, Villa Grimaldi, Cuatro Alamos and finally Tres Alamos from where she was released in early September 1974. She was subjected to constant tortures, at the same time as her companion, Humberto Mewes, including electric shocks, beating of the spine with a ball attached to a rope ("laque"), which broken two of her vertebrae; in addition, a machine was driven over her legs, leaving her unable to walk for a number of days.

18.- Agustín Julio Holgado Bloch. Arrested in the street, at the corner of Calle Alameda and Calle San Antonio on 12 September 1974. He was tortured with a special machine for applying electric shocks, apparently of an experimental nature, with sudden changes in the intensity of the current which on being applied made the whole body leap up from the table.

19.- Mónica Isabel Uribe Tamblay. Arrested on 13 September 1974. She was systematically tortured and raped, by groups of 5 people who beat her, mainly around the head and lung area. She was tied down for electric current to be applied to her genital organs, ears and head. On one occasion when she had been thrown naked on to the floor in a room near the bathroom, a man came in started to interrogate her and beat her and then tried to rape her. At one point the blindfold slipped from her eyes and she saw that her attacker appeared to be General Manuel Contreras.

20.- Viviana Uribe Tamblay. Arrested on 13 September 1974 at the same time as her sister Mónica and her uncle Carlos Sepúlveda. She was stripped and given electric "grill" treatment. She was then taken to a room and beaten up by three men.

She was then taken to a place in Ir n, with plane trees, and with her eyes blindfolded she was kicked up a staircase to the second floor and taken before a group of people whose leader told her that she had better co-operate and since she did not do so, all those present beat her. She was blindfolded again and taken into another room where she was stripped, subjected to electric shocks and raped. She was then taken to another room and, still naked, tied to a chair whereupon a dog was let into the room and started scratching her on the breast with its front paws until they took it away. The same day they took her back to the same room on the second floor to continue electric shock torture and subjected her to violent interrogation that had nothing to do with politics but was of a sexual nature.

21. Beatriz Constanza Bataszeww Contreras. Arrested on 12 December 1974. She was taken to some form of underground installations, stripped naked and subjected to electric shocks, simulated shootings and various types of sexual abuse, in the presence of other detainees such as Fernando Peña and Ana Maria Arenas. She was then taken up to the room she had first been in, thrown on a mattress, left for a short while and then taken to the basement area again and subjected to the same treatment as before. Another detainee, JORGE ORTIZ MORAGA was in the same place and she was obliged to perform lascivious acts with him for the entertainment of the guards and degradation of the prisoners.

The person who appeared to lead the group was a large strong individual known as "Papi" with wide hands who wore an enormous ring on one hand. On one occasion he asked Cristina Zamora, one of the prisoners who was also a doctor, to perform a medical examination, and Cristina saw that he had syphilitic open sores on his body. This individual used to rape the female prisoners and the tortures he applied were of a sexual nature: forcing the men to masturbate, touching organs, applying current to the genitals etc. He also owned a dog called Voladia which had been trained in sexual practices with human beings.

22.- Ricardo Froden Armstrong. Arrested on 23 January 1975 in his home located on the corner of Calle Fernandez Alabano and Gran Avenida by a large force of DINA agents who kept him in the Villa Grimaldi torture centre until May 1975. In this period he witnessed the systematic torture of approximately 200 detainees.

23.- María Isabel Matamala Vivaldi. Arrested on 5 February 1975. She was taken to the Villa Grimaldi where a man took down her personal details and obliged her to strip naked. As part of the system they gagged her with a towel and applied electric current to her genital organs, breasts, nipples, mouth, etc., while she was tied down to a metal table. During this torture the sound of the Aranjuez Concerto was being played at full volume.

When she was half dressed after this session she was taken to another room, without a blindfold, occupied by Miguel Krasnoff and a dark woman known as "the Commandant". Both, particularly the woman, punched her repeatedly while she was tied to a chair.

They then threw her into a room the size of a water closet. From there she could hear them torturing Ruben Aguilera.

Among other tortures performed in the Villa Grimaldi, in addition to the constant use of electricity, a practice known as "the telephone" was applied, (blows to the ears), as well as psychological pressure in threatening to harm the victim's family, being forced to hear other people being tortured, deprivation of liquids, interruption of sleep and simulated shootings.

24. Francisco Hern n Plaza Tapia. Arrested on 3 February 1975. he was taken to the Villa and subjected to systematic torture techniques, including electric shock, being suspended from the ceiling, cigarette burns on the body and immersion in liquids until practically drowned.

25.- Carena Zoila Pérez Martínez. Arrested on 5 March 1975. Blindfolded and taken to the torture centre in Cañal Bajo on the outskirts of Osorno and subjected to electric shocks. She was hit in the stomach with coligue branches and subjected to simulated shooting. Various agents also abused her sexually.

26. Mauricio Eduardo Galaz Romero. Arrested on 17 September 1975. Taken to the Villa Grimaldi and without any prior interrogation, stripped naked, tied to a bed with metal pincers through which they applied electric current to his testicles, anus, penis and other sensitive parts of the body. He was then left in a large room, very cold, smelling of urine and occupied by approximately 20 other detainees. The following day at approximately 5:00 he was taken to a place near Plaza Nuñoa, and on returning he was taken to a small chamber where he was hung upside down, naked, from the ceiling and left that way the whole morning. Periodically two individuals would enter and apply electric shocks to the anus. On one occasion he was tortured at the same time as a female detainee whom he knew. On another occasion they simulated shooting him.

27. Jean Yves Claudet Fernández, disappeared after being arrested on November 10, 1975. He had previously been detained twice in Chile, first on October 2, 1973 when he was subjected to intense torture in the National Stadium, suffered four broken ribs and contracted bronco-pneumonia. He was released but then arrested again a few days later, taken to the National Stadium and then transferred to the penitentiary. In early November 1974 the case against him was officially closed with no verdict and he was repatriated to France. At an unknown date he went to Argentina and checked in to the Hotel Liberty in Buenos Aires, and was arrested on November 10, 1975.

28. Jeremías Segundo Levinao Meliqueo, of Mapuche origin, from the area of Lautaro. In the years preceding the coup d'état he was a rural worker, and worked with the MCR (Movimiento Campesino Revolucionario) whose objective was the struggle to defend the lands of the Mapuche native small proprietors. For many years native farmers had seen their lands usurped by the local owners of more extensive lands, so that during the Salvador Allende Government, with the application of Land Reform, rural workers saw that being organized might allow them to recover the land which for centuries had been theirs and was their sustenance. He took part in this process together with his relatives, companions and friends. People who were in this movement suffered savage repression after the coup and many of them are dead or disappeared today. He was arrested in June 1974 and accused on the basis of his activities in the Movement and for being an activist left-winger, and with him were accused other indigenous natives like Luis Mora San Juan, a rural worker of the settlement of El Luchador de los Aromos, in Lautaro. He was killed violently and his body buried very close to where he lived. Thanks to the information given by some rural workers about a month later, his son found his body.

In mid-June, 1974, when he was 18 years old, a group of civilians from the Investigation Corps of Lautaro arrested him in the street. He was taken to the Investigations barracks where he was held for about three months. Together with three other rural workers, he was accused of organizing the resistance to the dictatorship in that area. He was interrogated and tortured many times. For this purpose he was taken into the country and there, with all his clothes on, handcuffed and feet tied, they threw him in the river and when he was on the point of drowning, they got him out of the water and then, while wet, they applied electric current to all his body, especially his genitals. Then they threw him into a cell where he spent several days in wet clothes. It was a dirty room, without a bathroom, and they made him perform his physiological needs right there, and at times he was not fed for several days on end.. Although he was alone, at different times he could hear the screams of other companions being tortured, which was as bad for him as what he himself had gone through.

In October, they transferred him to the Temuco Regiment. There he was interrogated by military personnel who questioned him about arms, names of persons who supposedly carried out activities against the Military Junta.. Blindfolded in a room, they applied electric currents to him while naked, on the "grill" (metal bed) and they beat him all over. Especially terrible was the application of electricity to his teeth. A piece of metal was placed in his mouth with a key which revolved and burned his mouth. At the same time someone held his mouth shut with a damp rag.

A few days later they removed the blindfold from his eyes and the handcuffs and they told him that they were taking him off to be killed. They put him in a small car together with four other people. However, they were taken to Temuco Jail. He was at once handed over to the Military Prosecutor s Office and then, a year and a half later, was tried in the penultimate Military Tribunal to be held in Temuco, and condemned to house arrest whereby he had to register once a week at the Military Prosecutor s Office and then in the Lautaro Jail. As from that date he underwent constant persecution which obliged him to abandon Chile in 1984, destination France.

29.- José Manuel Parada Maluenda, arrested March 29, 1985 by Carabineros in Santiago, because he was in charge of the Department of Information of the Vicaria de la Solidaridad of the Bishopric of Santiago of Chile. On the day following his arrest, he appeared together with Manuel Guerreo, beheaded, his ripped open from top to bottom and with numerous wounds. The authorities were aware of the facts and these authorities included President Augusto Pinochet Ugarte who permitted the act to be committed in order to terrorise the citizens.

SEVENTEEN: The tortures and cruelty were not only inflicted on adults, but also on small children and youngsters aged less than 18, and in the cases referred to in the following pages, resulted in death:

A) Death following disappearance:

In the areas of Laja and San Rosendo 19 people were arrested by the Carabineros of Laja between 13 and 17 September 1973. Amongst them were two minors:

- Mario Manuel BECERRA AVELLO, age 18. Detained by the Laja Carabineros on 17 September when he was about to take a train to Curacautín.

- Juan Carlos JARA HERRERA, age 17. Detained by the Laja Carabineros on 17 September 1973.

They were all put in vehicles during the early hours of 18 September, supposedly being taken to the barracks of the Los Angeles Regiment, but they never arrived.

On 11 October 1973 their bodies were discovered by villagers in a pit covered by sand in San Juan ravine, located on the road between Laja and Yumbel. The Yumbel Court ordered that the bodies be disinterred and buried in the Yumbel Parish Cemetery.

The Archbishopric of Concepción presented formal criminal charges before the Laja Criminal Court on 24 July 1979, against the Carabineros of the same locality. The Concepción Appeal Court designated a Circuit Judge. This allowed the victim to be identified and established that they had been executed by the Carabineros of Laja on the same day that they were taken away, in the place where the bodies were found.

On 18 March the Circuit Judge declared that the case was outside his jurisdiction and the proceedings were transferred to the Ad-hoc Military Prosecuting Attorney of Concepción, and was definitively closed for lack of conclusive evidence on 9 June 1980 by the Judge of Military Court No. 3. This decision was ratified by the Supreme Court on 3 December 1981. The amnesty of 1978 was applied to the perpetrators of the killings.

- On 20 September 1973, Roberto HUAQUI BARRIA, aged 17, was killed.

The victim had left Lago Ranco on 11 September with a group of other people with the intention of going to Argentina. When he was crossing the River Nilahue, a small aircraft piloted by civilians opened fire and shot him dead. The body of the youngster fell into the river, was swept away by the current and was never recovered.

- On 24 September a troop of soldiers from the San Bernardo Infantry Regiment arrived at the vineyards in El Escorial de Paine and rounded up four workers, and took them to a football pitch where they made to stretch out on the ground. They were then blindfolded, put on board a military vehicle and driven to the Cerco de Chena detention centre. Among the people arrested were Hector CASTRO SOEZ, aged 18; Gustavo Hern n MART NEZ VERA, aged 18, and Ignacio del Tr nsito SANTANDER ALBORNOZ, aged 17.

- On 3 October 1973 the troops carried out an operation in the course of which 13 agricultural workers from the Paine district were rounded up. They were taken to the Cerro Chena detention centre by soldiers from the San Bernardo Infantry Regiment. Among those arrested were Carlos Manuel ORTIZ ORTIZ, aged 18 and Victor Manuel ZAMORANO GONZ LEZ, aged 18.

In December the Legal Medical Service informed the members of the families of the people who had been arrested that their bodies had been buried in Plot 29 in the General cemetery. Around the same date, neighbours from the area discovered human remains in the vicinity of the Cuesta de Chada hillside. Members of the families were able to identify most of the bodies from the clothes they had been wearing on the day they were arrested. The remains were transported to the Legal Medical Service.

In September 1990 the Appeal Court Judge, Germ n Hermosilla made an appearance at the Legal Medical Service to identify the remains that had been unidentified since 1974. Among the bodies identified were those of Hector Castro Saez and Victor Manuel Zamorano Gonz lez.

On 3 October 1973 the brothers Juan Enrique Rodríguez Aqueveque, aged 20, and Florentino Aurelio Rodríguez Aqueveque, aged 17, were arrested by troops.

Some days later the family located the corpse of Juan Enrique in the Legal Medical Institute. The autopsy protocol mentioned the existence of another corpse found in the same location that was not recognised at the time, which allows one to assume it was that of Florentino Aurelio. Both corpses presented multiple bullet wounds.

- On 7 October 1973 eleven people from three different families of land workers in the Sector of Isla de Maipo were arrested in their respective homes by Carabineros. The agents had no order to arrest or authorisation to enter the homes, despite which they checked the houses, terrorised the families and in some cases used unnecessary violence. The detainees were transported to the Isla de Maipo station.

The same day four young men who were in the town square of Isla de Taipo were rounded up by the Carabineros and taken to the same station, among them were Jose HERRERA VILLEGAS aged 17, and Iv n ORDOÑEZ LAMA, aged 17.

Their families' search for them was fruitless. However an anonymous source known to the Catholic Church gave information towards the end of 1978 on the existence of human remains in an abandoned mine in Lonquén. A judicial investigation was put in hand under the charge of the Circuit Judge, Adolfo Bañados.

On 4 April 1979 the Circuit Judge issued a resolution determining that the case was outside his competence so investigations could not continue and remitting the case to the Second Military Tribunal of Santiago. This resolution contains various Legal Considerata in which it is established that the bodies buried in the lime oven in Lonquén correspond to the 15 people arrested on 7 October 1973 in Isla de Maipo, and that in the death of these persons "intervention and direct liability" attached to the Head of the Carabinero station at the time "notwithstanding the responsibility of the men who acted under his orders".

Subsequently the Military Prosecutor laid charges against the Carabineros who were serving in the Lonquén station, accusing them of the crime of unnecessary violence causing the death of all the detainees as already identified. Later a verdict was pronounced whereby the case was definitively dismissed in favour of those who had been accused in relation to the crime of unnecessary violence.

- Eliseo Maximiliano TROCANA O VALENZUELA, aged 18, was arrested on 10 October 1973 in the Trafún Sector, during a joint raid carried out by uniformed personnel and civilians. He was taken to the Villarica bridge over the River Toltén and executed there. His body was never found.

The victims' corpses were left in the place of execution during various days, covered only with some tree trunks and branches. Approximately 15 days later military personnel arrived and buried the bodies in graves of varying dimensions.

EIGHTEEN: Within the general pattern of selective elimination, the criminal action was guided in part by ethnic and religious reasons..

A) Ethnic reasons applied to the indigenous Mapuche people, who were systematically eliminated, killed or disappearance. They also suffered particular cruelty on the grounds of race aimed at preventing any recognition or realisation of the claims they had been voicing for centuries, and which they had achieved through the Land Reform of the Salvador Allende government. Thus to ensure that the Mapuche Movement, embodied by indigenous leaders of the AD- 228 MAPU, could not go on reasserting Mapuche national rights, the governing military junta and Augusto Pinochet as its president set about eliminating the Mapuches within the General Plan for Elimination.

The Mapuche people constitute an Amerindian tribe of Araucanians located between the Rivers Bio-Bio and Tolkén of ancestral antiquity who have traditionally dedicated themselves to agriculture and tending their flocks of llamas and harvesting. "Mapuche means People of the Land (MAPU: land + CHE: people). They live chiefly in the Ninth Region in the central southern area of the country, and though there are currently no overall statistics regarding the number of people making up the race, there are certainly more than half a million Mapuches spread about Chile's rural and urban communities.

The indigenous Mapuche people have their own religion and language and a traditional form of communal land ownership that is the basis of their identity and way of life.

Over the years, ever since the arrival of the Spaniards in the sixteenth century, most of their lands were expropriated, but thanks to the land reforms brought in and developed by the Salvador Allende government, some were restored to them, and they achieved a relatively decent standard of living, health and education. This was the aim of Law 17,729 of 1972.

Thus one of the military junta's top priorities following the coup was to suppress any consolidation of this trend in support of the Mapuche identity. It was, therefore, decided to curtail it by first killing and/or abducting numerous prominent activist leaders and rural workers on account of their belonging to this ethnic group. This happened to approximately 300 people, which is not a definitive figure as we are dealing with isolated communities that speak no, or little, Spanish and, most importantly, are terrified of reporting what happened for fear of reprisals. These people were tortured before they were killed or released, albeit forced to abandon their land and lifestyle or even to leave the country. Subsequently, with Decree-Law 2568 passed by the military junta in March 1979, the distribution of indigenous land was reorganised, reversing the Mapuches' gains and giving rise to further oppression.

On the very day of the coup, the landowners, army and Carabineros began to persecute

the Mapuches that had fought for their lands and succeeded in recovering them

(Report by the Special United Nations Working Group on human rights in Chile, 1978). As emerges from the report on the Mapuches produced in 1980 by the Inter-Church Committee For Human Rights in Latin America, entitled People of the Land, the persecution of the Mapuches was a reality and was due solely to their indigenous nature; as was a reality the fact that they tried to hide at first because all indigenous people were hunted down like animals.

Moreover, a number of Mapuches and principally some of their leaders who were not killed or disappeared were forcibly displaced by government orders to areas far from their own lands for periods of up to three months

Without prejudice to any later additions in the course of these proceedings to the list of indigenous Mapuche people killed, missing or tortured as a result of the criminal repression set in motion by the accused Augusto Pinochet Ugarte and the governing military junta over which he presided, and carried out by all who took part in the crimes under their orders, from 11 September, 1973, we may now, with the data available, enumerate the victims that have been identified, most of whom figure in the list below:

B) For Religious reasons.-

Although it is true that the Governing Junta of Chile does not undertake the persecution of the Jewish people, it is true that that the incidence of the repression is notable in the case of citizens of Jewish origin, who were subjected to particularly cruel torture by reason of their Jewish origins.

The cases referred to are:

- David Silberman Gurovich, kidnapped, tortured, and disappeared.

The testimony is contained in the case records of Monseñor Fernando ARIZTIA, the current President of the Catholic Episcopal Conference of Chile, stating that Augusto Pinochet was aware of the arrest of David Silberman.

On October 4, 1974 David SILBERMAN GUROVICH disappeared, ex-general manager of the Cobre-Chuqui company during the Unidad Popular Government, engineer.

The victim had been condemned by the Military Tribunal of Calama (Consejo de Guerra) to thirteen years in jail.

In contrast to the others who were condemned in Calama, David Silberman was taken on September 30, 1973 to the Santiago Penitentiary to serve his sentence (various of those who had been condemned and who had been associates of David Silberman in Cobre-Chuqui were executed without due process in October 1973 by a military mission which had arrived from Santiago under the command of General Arellano Stark and which came to be known as "the Caravan of Death").

In a complex operation which involved switched identities, phone tapping, falsification of documents and other devices, David Silberman was kidnapped in the penitentiary by agents of DINA.

The victim remained in the Centro José Domingo Cañas where he was badly tortured. Subsequently he was taken to Cuatro Alamos where he disappeared towards the end of October.

- Diana Frida Aron Svigilisky, kidnapped, tortured and disappeared.

On November 18, 1974 Frida ARON SVILISKY was detained in the street in the commune of Ñuñoa and as a result of her detention was wounded by a bullet.

- Carlos Berger Guralnik, aged 30, journalist and lawyer, director of the El Loa radio and manager of Public Relations at Chuquicamata. Arrested on September 11 on the premises of El Loa radio, brought before a Military Court on September 29 and condemned to sixty days in prison. At the time of his execution he was serving his sentence.

- Luis A. Guendelman Wisniak,

On September 2, 1974 the arrest took place at his home in the commune of Las Condes of Luis Alberto GUELDMAN WISNIAK by DINA agents who brought with them under arrest a friend of his who was released sometime later.

Luis Guendelman was held on DINA premises and was seen for the last time in Cuatro Alamos when he was being tortured. In July 1975 DINA tried to pass off a body found in the Argentine as being the remains of Luis Guendelman in a manoeuvre for the purposes of disinformation known as "Operation Colombo".

- Manuel Elias Jana Santibáñez,

On February 17, 1975 the ex-mayor of Cañete during the previous government, Manuel Elías JANA SANTIBÁÑEZ was killed. Activist of the PS (Socialist Party) who had been arrested on February 13, 1975 after an interview with the Intendente (local authority leader) of Arauco.

His body was found in the Naval Hospital of Talcahuano, where it was handed over in a sealed coffin.

The victim had been held in the gymnasium of the Naval Base of Talcahuano, from which he was taken just before his death, alive and on the understanding that they were taking him to hospital.

-Georg Max Klein Pipper, aged 27, psychiatrist, adviser to the President of the Republic of Chile, who has already been referred to.

Arrested in the Presidential Palace, tortured and disappeared as from September 11, 1973.

-Abraham Muskatblit Eidelstein,

On September 19, 1974 at 03.00 in the morning, there arrived at the home of Abraham MUSKATBLIT EIDELSTEIN, an advertising executive, in the area of Casas Viejas, twelve armed individuals who kidnapped him. His body appeared riddled with bullets some hours later in an irrigation channel next to the road which leads to Lonquén.

That same night armed civilians tried to kidnap Luis Toro, lawyer of the Vicaría de la Solidaridad.

These acts were attributed to the Commando self-styled "Once de Septiembre".

-Jorge H. Muller Silva,

On November 29, 1974 the arrest took place in the street in Santiago, when they were on their way to work, of Jorge Hern n MULLER SILVA and his work companion in Chile Films, Carmen Cecilia BUENO CIFUENTES.

Both were taken to Villa Grimaldi and then to Cuatro Alamos where they disappeared while in the hands of the DINA.

-Raúl Pellegrín Friedmann, tortured and executed.

On October 21, 1988 a group from the PFMR commanded by their leaders Cecilia MAGNI CAMINO and Raúl PELLEGRIN FRIEDMANN attacked the village of Los Queñes, where a Carabineros corporal was killed; they then fled to the mountains.

Some days later, on October 28, 1988 the body was found in the River Tinguirica of Cecilia Magni and on October 31 the body of Raúl Pellegrín was found.

According to the autopsies, both bodies showed bruises and signs that electrical current had been applied to them.

As regards Raúl Pellegrín, it states that the cause of death was asphyxiation by submersion in water and contusions on the back thorax which is attributed to the use of blunt instruments, taking into account the topography and depth and the absence of external injuries.

-Matilde Pessa Mois, kidnapped, tortured and disappeared.

On May 29, 1977 the arrest took place on the arrival of the flight between Santiago and Buenos Aires, before passing the International Police control, of the Chilean couple Matilde PESSA MOIS and Jacobo STOULMAN BOERTNIK, without political activities or affiliations. From that moment they disappeared. Subsequently their names were found registered in the Winston Palace Hotel of Buenos Aires, which was used at that period by the Argentine Security Services.

-Juan Carlos Perelman Ide, kidnapped, tortured and disappeared.

On February 20, 1974 the MIR activist Juan Carlos PERELMAN IDE, was arrested together with his companion who sometime later was freed and was able to give witness to the fact that he had been held in Villa Grimaldi.

Jacobo Stoulman Boertnik, kidnapped, tortured and disappeared.

On May 29, 1977 the arrest took place on the arrival of the flight between Santiago and Buenos Aires, before passing the International Police control of the Chilean couple Matilde PESSA MOIS and Jacobo STOULMAN BOERTNIK, without political activities or affiliations. From that moment they disappeared. Subsequently their names were found registered in the Winston Palace Hotel of Buenos Aires, which was used at that period by the Argentine Security Services.

-Ernesto Traubmann Riegelhaupt, kidnapped and disappeared.

On September 13, 1973 Ernesto TRAUBMANN RIEGELHAUPT disappeared, Czech, aged 49, public relations for the Empresa Nacional de Minería (Enami).

He was arrested in the early morning of the same day by Carabineros. He was taken to the 7th Police Station and from there to the Ministry of Defence.

Despite the efforts of his family, there has been no further news regarding his whereabouts. There is no record that he left the country.

-José Joaquín Valenzuela Levi.

In the early morning of June 15, 1987 in calle Pedro Donoso in the commune of Conchalí, there took place the last episode in which the largest number of people died, amongst them Jos Joaquín VALENZUELA LEVI, student.

The official version indicates that there was a skirmish, as a result of which the victims already referred to were killed while one other person escaped.

- Recaredo Ignacio Valenzuela Pohorecky. Killed.

The events began on the morning of June 15, 1987 when Recaredo Ignacio VALENZUELA POHORECKY, economist, was intercepted in calle Alhué of Santiago, a few meters from his mother's house. Without telling him that he should give himself up, the CNI agents who were waiting for him shot and killed him.

NINETEEN: Amongst the victims of Augusto Pinochet's repression, there were various Spanish citizens and descendants of Spaniards, amongst them:

1. Antonio Llidó Mengual, Spanish priest, associated with MIR, arrested in October 1974, held in the Centro José Domingo Cañas and transferred to Cuatro Alamos where he disappeared while in the hands of DINA; to whom an extensive reference has been made already.

2. Carmelo Luís Soria Espinoza, Spaniard, official of the United Nations, activist of the Socialist Party, arrested on July 14, 1976 and executed on July 16, 1976, his body being found on the 17th of the same month in the El Carmen canal. Carmelo Soria was kidnapped and tortured by agents of the MULCHEN Brigade of the DINA, which had the mission of providing personal protection to Augusto Pinochet. The torture and his death took place in a house in Santiago, in the sector of Lo Curro, bought with DINA money in which Michael Townley lived.

After the military coup, Carmelo Soria had dedicated himself, to the extent possible, to facilitating the exile of people, taking them to various embassies in Chile and giving them protection. He helped persons who were opposed to the regime. During the three years that he gave asylum to people he suffered increasing harrassment.

On July 14, after lunch, he left for his work at about 14.00 but did not arrive there because he had been kidnapped.

After draining the canal, the body of Mr. Soria was found in the back seat of the vehicle but not within it. The distance between the vehicle and the body was approximately five hundred meters.

The killing of Carmelo Soria was carried out by members of the MULCHEN BRIGADE which was responsible directly to Augusto Pinochet through Manuel Contreras.

3. Michelle Peña Herreros, companion of Ricardo Ernesto Lagos, arrested towards the end of June, 1975, Spanish nationality, eight months' pregnant and Socialist Party activist, was held in the Torre in Villa Grimaldi, was subjected to torture and subsequently disappeared in the hands of DINA, as did her companion. The child was born in captivity and there has been no further information since.

4. Enrique López Olmedo, Spanish nationality, member of MIR, executed on November 11, 1977, after being arrested in Valparaíso at the end of October by Navy personnel.

5. Juan Alsina Hurtos, Spanish, Catholic priest, and in charge of personnel in the San Juan de Dios Hospital in Santiago, was executed on September 19, 1973, on the banks of the Maocho River by members of the Yungay Regiment.

6. Antonio Elizondo Hormaechea, of Spanish nationality, and activist in MAPU (Movimiento de Acción Popular Unitario), a socialist Christian organization; he was arrested together with his wife, Elizabeth Mercedes Rakas Urrea, four months' pregnant, on May 26, 1976 and nothing further has been heard about his whereabouts.

7. José Tohá González, lawyer, Minister of Defence in the Government of President Allende, son of Spaniards, is arrested on September 11 in the Palacio de la Moneda and taken to the Military School. Subsequently he was sent to Dawson Island where he was subjected to torture. He was then successively transferred to various detention centers in which his health deteriorated seriously. He died on March 15, 1977 at the hands of State agents who simulated a suicide which in reality his state of weakness would have made impossible.

8. José Francisco Bordas Paz, engineer, aged 31, member of the Central Committee of the MIR, died on September 5, 1975 at the hands of members of the Intelligence Service of the Chilean Air Force (SIFA).

9. Felix Francisco Figueras Ubach, arrested on December 11, 1975 in Valparaíso. He was captured by members of the Armoured Infantry Regiment N° 4 of Viña del Mar and taken to their barracks.

10. Manuel Roig Berenguer. Died on September 6, 1985, having been shot during a demonstration.

11. Aruro Villavella Araujo. Engineer and member of the Central Committee of the MIR; died during a CNI operation, together with two others, on December 7, 1983. Some 60 agents of the CNI surrounded his house in Calle Fuenteovejuna 1330 in Santiago, killing all those who were inside it.

12. María Cristina López Stewart, aged 21, arrested on September 22, 1974 in Santiago by members of the DINA. From that date, and after having been seen in the detention and torture centre of "José Domingo Cañas", she disappeared.

13. Gastón F. Vidaurrazaga Manriquez, aged 30. two sons, teacher. On September 18, 1986 at about 4.00, six individuals penetrated his home taking him with them to an unknown destination. His body was found shortly after with multiple bullet wounds at about Km. 15 on Route 5 South.

14. Juan José Bomcompte Andreu, aged 30 with one daughter, economist. On August 24, 1984 he was executed by CNI agents in his home in Valdivia, as part of an operation against the leadership of the MIR in the Southern zone of the country.

15. Ricardo García Rosada, aged 43, with two sons, comercial engineer. On September 12, 1973 he was taken to the prison of Copiapó after presenting himself to the authorities in Potresillas, being executed on the 18 of that month and buried in an unknown place.

16. Ricardo Silva Soto, aged 27, with one son. activist in the Frente Patriótico Manuel Rodríguez (FPMR). On June 16, 1987 he was executed in Santiago by agents of the Central Nacional de Informaciones (CNI); this act formed part of the so-called "Operation Albania" in which 12 persons were killed on June 15 and 16, 1987.

LEGAL REASONING

ONE: The procedural issues in connection with the competence and jurisdiction of the Courts of Spain for the investigation, knowledge and issue of formal conclusions as to the facts of the case have been resolved in the official findings dated 25.3.1998; 11.6.1998 and 15.9.1998, but above all in the Resolution of the Plenary Session of the Criminal Division dated 4 and 5 November 1998. Likewise the issues concerning privilege and the lack of immunity of Augusto Pinochet Ugarte were addressed and resolved in the Ruling of 3 November 1998, on the basis of which extradition is proposed, substantiated by the Decision of the House of Lords in England, issued on 25 November 1998.

Therefore, in respect of these issues, one need only ratify the arguments presented:

At this point, to satisfy the requirements of Article 384 of the Criminal Procedures Law - edict on the procedures for the trial of the accused - one needs to establish the legal/penal classification of this crime, for merely provional purposes, of the facts summarised in this Resolution, and assign a judgement as to imputability, likewise of a provisional nature, on the essence of the events where evidence of criminal liability is concentrated.

TWO: The facts as related could constitute:

1.- The crime of genocide according to Article 607, Paragraphs 1, 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th of the Penal Code.

The Legal Precept states:

"Those persons who, with the intention of partially or totally destroying a national group, perform any one of the following actions will be punished:

1. By a prison sentence of fifteen to twenty 20 years if they kill any member of such group.

2. By a prison sentence of fifteen to twenty years if they sexually assault any member of such group or inflict injuries as described in Article 149.

3. By a prison sentence of eight to fifteen years if they subject the group or any member of the group to living conditions that endanger their life or seriously threaten their health or produce any of the injuries described in Article 150.

4. The same punishment will be applied to those persons who force members of the group to move from one place to another, apply any measures designed to impede their normal way of life or reproduction, or forcibly transfer individuals from one group to another.

5. By a prison sentence of four to eight years if they cause any injury other than those described in N§s 2 and 3 of this paragraph".

"Genocide comprises the ultimate crime, the most serious violation of the rights of mankind that can possibly be committed" (translator's note: this and subsequent such translations are non-official). These are the words used in the so-called "M.B. Whitaker Report" which addresses the Study of Prevention and Repression of the Crime of Genocide in the context of Resolution 1983/83 of the Social - Economic Council of the United Nations dated 27 May 1983 revised edition dated 2 July 1985, E/CN. 4/ Sub.2/1985/6 and comprises an essential document for the appraisal of the crimes under discussion.

The duty of the International Community should be to detect it, pursue it, and punish it as appropriate, without allowing the political pressures of any Government or Regime to open the doors to immunity, because if this is allowed, it would expedite the performance of new criminal actions that humanity rejects and repudiates.

In the same sense one needs to emphasise that the right to live is the first of human rights and all other rights are tributaries of same. The right to conserve life is not only an issue which concerns the Government of the individual or the group in question but also a concern of the International Community, particularly when this Community is the holder of the right that is being violated.

Resolution 96 (I) of the United Nations General Assembly, affirms that the pursuit and punishment of the crime of genocide is a matter of national interest and, it should be added, of national and international obligation, for that reason it is a crime which is "condemned by the civilized world" and a legal commitment exists whereby it must be pursued both in times of peace and times of war.

It is a norm which is imperative or ius cogens, according to the International Court of Justice (consultative opinion on the reservations to the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of Genocide of December 9, 1948, of May 15, 23 and 28, 1951). As a ius cogens norm it must be, and is, accepted pacifically by the international community which can only be affected by a subsequent modification, through mechanisms specifically foreseen in Article 53 of the Vienna Convention on Treaty Rights of May 23, 1969.

What is more, and given its character (ius cogens), which is rooted in Common International Law, the norm is wider than that which is contained in the 1948 Convention, and therefore starting from the basic minimum, that the former contains the principles collected in the latter, they are obligatory for all States even outside the linkage which is derived from the Convention itself and are applicable in accordance with the principle of universal jurisdiction and require cooperation which is, again, universal for all and in the face of all (erga omnes)

The difficulties that will arise to impede the achievement of the foregoing will be great and even harder to overcome when the body that threatens death, or is the executor or accomplice of murder, is the State itself; especially if one bears in mind the obstructive behaviour of the Government in question in relation to the action by the United Nations foreseen in the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide dated 9 December 1948, which Spain subscribed to on 13 September 1968, with express and total reservation as to Article 9, referring to the Jurisdiction of the International Tribunal of Justice for the interpretation, application, and execution of the Convention. Accepting the commitment, whenever a legitimate interest is involved - represented in this case by the existence of victims who are Spaniards and descendants of Spaniards - as is reflected in Article 23.4 of the Spanish Organic Law on Judicial Power, to pursue the crime of genocide, as is the case in a similar sense, with Article 6 of the German STGB and the Israeli Law 5710/50.

The crime of genocide is defined in the Convention of 9 December 1948, and where Spain is concerned, is included in our Internal Laws of Jurisdiction, as a result of our adhesion to the Convention, through the Law 44/1971 of 15 November, which adds Article 137 bis, within Chapter III, as one of the crimes against the Rights of the People under Title I (Crimes against the Foreign Security of the State) within Book II of the Penal Code.

Since then, this crime has not disappeared from our Penal Code. It is currently regulated, as mentioned earlier, by Article 607, Chapter II (The Crime of Genocide) Major Heading XXIV (Crimes against the International Community) Book II of the Penal Code. From the point of view of classification, the most relevant differentiation in this case between the crime as defined in 1971 and current legislation is the substitution of the expression "national ethnic group" by "national, ethnic..group" and "social group" by "racial group".

The first difficulty that may arise is whether the Spanish legislator, on eliminating the orthographic comma between "national" and "ethnic" which now exists, meant to restrict the scope of application of the precept, or, on the contrary, allows an interpretation in accordance with the Convention.

This domestic legislation remained in force for almost five years after the inception of the Spanish Constitution of 1978, in which Article 10.2 makes express reference to the interpretation of International Treaties and Agreements in respect of fundamental rights. Therefore, the interpretation according to the Constitution and the 1948 Convention of the expression "national ethnic groups" existing in Article 137 bis, in force until 1983, obliges one to insert a comma between "national" and "ethnic", exactly as has happened in the modification referred to, and, therefore, not to restrict the national groups object of genocide to those of a purely ethnic nature. This argument is valid even though the events which are the subject of this investigation took place before the inception of the current Spanish Constitution, because in virtually all cases one is faced with abduction, a crime of permanent consummation, and convert, in turn, genocide into a crime of permanent consummation, and because the crime of genocide continues to be committed as long as the actions designed to partially eliminate a group subsist, which happened in Chile many years after our Constitution came into force.

The problems which may arise from the specific wording of the provisions of Section 137 bis of the Penal Code may be avoided by the use of the approach based on Article 10.2 of the Constitution, instead of that relating to international legislation on Treaties and specifically the Vienna Convention, on the Law of Treaties. While it is true that this international legislation refers to the fact that the provisions of domestic law cannot be relied upon to breach a Treaty, it is nonetheless also true that Article 5 of the Convention on the Crime of Genocide does not provide for the direct and immediate effectiveness of same, but rather imposes on the parties the commitment to adopt the necessary measures to ensure the application of the Convention and to provide effective criminal sanctions for guilty persons. There is therefore an express reference to the effectiveness of domestic legislation implementing the Convention as stated in the Preamble to the 1971 Law which incorporates the crime of genocide into the Spanish Penal Code.

In summary, therefore, the national group approach must overcome an initial problem, the possible non-alignment of Spanish legislation as to the crime of genocide when the atrocities were committed by the Chilean exterminators, since they did not affect a "national ethnic group". This problem may be overcome by reverting to the Constitution, which declares as unconstitutional the limitation of national groups to those of an ethnic nature, by interpretation of internal legislation on fundamental rights in accordance with the 1948 Convention as required by Article 10.2 of the Constitution.

But, what is more, the hypothesis of genocide is also applicable in relation to an ethnic group (the Mapuches).

THREE: The second problem posed by the national group argument in classifying the behaviour of the Chilean exterminators is the concept itself. However, as will be seen later, this concept is viable. "National group" may mean "a group belonging to a nation", i.e. "the group of a nation" in the territorial sense, although in international legislation and practice the expression means above all "a group of common national origin"- (Cf. Cherif Bassiouni, International Criminal Law, Crimes, 1986, p.291). This expression is thus used, e.g. in Paragraph 1 of Article 1 of the International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination, December 21st 1965, which, in defining the concept of "racial discrimination", refers to all distinctions, exclusions, restrictions or preferences based, among other things, on reasons of race, national origin or ethnic origin. In the discussions during the drafting process of the 1948 Convention, it was intended to specify this as a group of a single nationality or citizenship, from the same ethnic origin, or as a reference to national minorities and even those belonging to different nationalities within a State or Nation. The Convention chose the expression "national group", this being considered inclusive of these cases which are, in reality, restrictive. In this sense it can be said that within the concept of genocide, the idea of "national" is used to identify permanent groups of people with a common origin. Apart from this, in the crime of genocide, the group to be totally or partially destroyed serves to determine the specific, subjective element, cause or intention sought with its destruction. Genocidal conduct is not only carried out with the intention of destroying a group, but also because they belong to a nation, ethnic group, race or religion. Obviously this idea does not exclude the genocide of national groups, the destruction of groups with a common origin, but differentiated within the same nation, this being understood to mean the territorial scope or group of inhabitants ruled by the same government. It is obvious that such groups within their own national identity exist within the nation. Generally in these cases the cohesion of these groups is ethnic - which would explain the restrictive Spanish legislation prior to 1983 - racial or religious but other differentiating elements are not excluded by this idea, e.g. territorial, historic or linguistic factors. There is no doubt that the total or partial destruction of the Scots, Catalans, Basques or Corsicans for the mere fact of their being such would be genocide of national, but not necessarily ethnic, groups, regardless of whether the reason were their language, tradition, territorial ambitions or ideology, as the decisive factor is that the reason for the destruction of the group would be, precisely, the fact that they belonged to such a national group united by some permanent, common, differentiating feature.

In the same way, the definition of national group does not exclude those cases where the victims are part of the same group as the transgressors, i.e. the cases of "self-genocide" such as occurred with the mass killings in Kampuchea.

In the "Whitaker Report" mentioned above, it is emphasised that "genocide does not necessarily mean the destruction of an entire group (....) The term used in Article 2 of the Convention seems to indicate quite a high number in relation to the total strength of the group or also an important part of that group, such as its leaders".

"(...) The group of victims may, in fact, be either a minority or a majority in a country;(...) the definition does not exclude the case where the victims belong to the same group as that to which the perpetrator of the crime belongs. The United Nations Rapporteur on the mass killings carried out by the Khmer Rouge in Kampuchea qualifies this massacre as "self-genocide", an expression which implies the mass destruction in the interior of the group itself of an important number of that group; as Pieter Drost said (The Crime of State II, Genocide. Leyden, A.W. Sythoff, 1959) "The most serious form of the crime of genocide is the deliberate destruction of the physical - or psychological - life of human beings taken individually, because of their belonging to any collective human group as such".

The document concludes that "in order to be qualified as genocide, the crimes committed against a certain number of individuals must be aimed at their collective group or at them as members or links in that collective group".

Among the crimes against humanity, which is not the same as genocide, the Charter of the Nuremberg International Military Court included "persecution for political, racial or religious reasons in the carrying out of, or in connection with, any crime under the jurisdiction of this Court".

However, although it is recognised in international literature that historically the destruction of national, ethnic, racial or religious groups has clearly been politically motivated, and in spite of the precedent of the Charter of Nuremberg, it is clearly deduced from analysis of the proceedings and studies of the 1948 Convention that the Sixth Commission responsible for drafting it, after prolonged debate, deliberately excluded political groups as the object of the crime of genocide, mainly because of the opposition of the Soviet Union. This does not mean that the destruction of groups for political reasons was left outside the scope of genocide. It is much more accurate to say that it means such political reasons must be centred on a national, ethnic, racial or religious group for its total or partial destruction to constitute genocide. Without this extra identification, the destruction of ideological or political groups was considered to be outside the scope of the crime of genocide by the 1948 Convention.

This exclusion has been contested repeatedly by the most expert scientific opinions, especially because, as Professor José Manuel Gómez Benítez says ("Genocide and the Immunity of Heads of State") "Reality, above all, has imposed a different way of interpreting the Convention. Exterminations of groups of people for political reasons have been so obvious and atrocious that it has become increasingly unjustifiable to maintain that they do not fit within the legal definition of genocide because they do not coincide with any of the groups referred to in the text of the Convention."

"It could be added that the concept of genocide is a living concept and should necessarily include those cases which really give it meaning in the light of events that have occurred since the Convention came into force. One of the cases which most clearly supports this interpretation, which should not be understood as by extension but rather as an integral of the true range that should be assigned to the term national group, is the self-genocide in Kampuchea referred to above, in respect of which it has been internationally recognised, especially by the United States in 1994, that between 17 April 1975 and 7 March 1979, what occurred in Democratic Kampuchea (Cambodia) was truly genocide of national groups for political reasons, although it came to affect not only the same Khmer group as the exterminators, but also the very members of the Khmer Rouge who differed ideologically from the controlling group. It is widely recognised that the first groups to be eliminated belonged to police forces, soldiers of the defeated army and high-ranking civil servants of previous regimes, sometimes together with their families. Later came ethnic minorities and immediately afterwards, in the context of the ideological ambition to eliminate the capitalist classes of all those Cambodians whom the leaders of the Khmer Rouge under the command of Pol Pot considered as suspect of individualistic activities or in favour of the concept of private property; at this point the massacres started to include as victims members of the Khmer Rouge squads and Khmer peasants. All of this without counting thousands of individual executions, tortures, and deportations." (J. M. Gómez Benítez , Ibid).

In addition, it must not be forgotten that the Congress of the USA itself passed the Cambodian Genocide Justice Act which sought to place those responsible for that genocide before the Courts.

FOUR: The foregoing reasoning has been developed to express -that, on the one hand, the concept of "national group" argued for here is not, in essence, identical with that of "political group" but that, on the other hand, it does not exclude "political groups" in the formulation of this concept.

Legal Doctrine, when referring to the Nazi genocide, establishes that it was the result, not of an international war, but of a calculated policy of collective killing undertaken by a State that entailed the "systematic and structured eradication of innocent people by the bureaucratic apparatus of that State".(Irving Horowitz, Taking Lives: Genocide and State Power. New Brunswick Transaction Books, 1980). Something very similar may be said of the genocide being judged herein. In Chile, as in Argentina, the Military Commanders, Augusto Pinochet and the rest of the members of the Governing Military Junta, imposed, in September 1973, through a coup d'état, a regime of terror based on the calculated systematic and violent elimination, by the State, of thousands of people over several years, under the disguise of a war against subversion;

the aim was to eradicate the very structure of the national group, through killing, imprisoning, and causing to disappear the persons who exercised some form of leadership or of an ideological initiative in each one of the sectors as described above under the heading of "Facts"; i.e. it was a question of a preordained action governed by principles much deeper than those of mere political disagreement, but included ideological, religious and ethnic aspects overlapping with same and with the leit motif of fighting against and eradicating "the Communist/Marxist conspiracy which is threatening Western Civilisation".

When the motivation behind the victims' persecution is ethnic (Gypsies, Jews, indigenous natives) the aggressor is not moved by purely racial motives, abstracted from any other ideological component, but rather but rather builds up sentiment sentiments which give rise to criminal actions on an essentially political base, to the extent that a premise of this type, - be it fascist, communist, capitalist or any other - rests on a specific rational conception, which thereafter determines the action. That is to say the political-ideological motive is the essential driving force for the conduct.

In this case nobody doubts that the partial or total destruction of a group identified as such, attacked by an aggressor thus motivated, constitutes a crime of genocide.

And so one should not have any doubt when it comes to qualifying the opposite assumption in the same way. This means that when the action comprises an attack on the very members of the national group (an essentially political concept) and is undertaken for motives that are essentially political, though they may be joined to others of a racial or religious or ideological nature, which are manifested in concrete actions in the form of a more intense aggression, sadism, violence, torture and ill-treatment when the victim in question is a Native, a Jew, a Non-conforming Catholic or simply an intellectual who disagrees with the party line of the aggressor group, or a non-theist, those individuals are assimilated to "Communists and Marxists".

Not to accept this interpretation is to be blind to the living concept of genocide, which cannot stagnate, bound by an interpretation contrary to the true nature of events, and unaltered, anchored to doctrines established by the immediate precedent of the Second World War, but today has evolved, in rhythm with the way atrocities against humanity have progressively been refined and developed and "conditioned by" the new situations, different to those advanced by the Convention of December 9, 1948.

This interpretation, which fits in with the appraisals expounded above in respect of self-genocide, is also compatible with Article 25 of the Spanish Constitution and with the definition contained in the Convention governing the Prevention and Punishment of Genocide and with Article 15.2 of the International Covenant for Civil and Political Rights of December 19, 1966 in accordance with which none of that which is provided for in this article would be incompatible with "the trial nor the sentence of a person for acts or omissions which at the moment of their execution were criminal in accordance with general principles of Law, recognised by the International Community", and Article 607 of the Spanish Penal Code and integrates the present reality of this type of crime and, above all, is clearly applicable to the case of genocide in Chile that is being evaluated in these proceedings.

In conclusion, if the political motivation cannot be eliminated when this genocidal act is carried out for ethnic or religious reasons, it is even more the case that the categorisation as genocide cannot be ignored when the criminal action is based on political motivations and the object of the aggression is exactly the same group of persons (national group to whom the aggressor also belongs, being the sector which is dominant through the use of force) and the instruments are the same - deaths, kidnapping followed by disappearance, tortures, sexual aggressions or forced displacements - and for the same purpose of eliminating ideological discrepancy and political opposition, and in any case is evident on the basis of either supposition. Therefore, the political parties as basic elements of co-existence and integration in democracy (Art. 6 in relation to Art. 1 of the Spanish Constitution) are an integral part of the national group in which their constitutional function is developed, and, therefore, all aggression to them and, specially, to the leadership which they provide, attacks the very identity of the group. In an identical sense one may speak of the other ideological sectors which make up the concept of national group, for which purpose one need not exclusively refer to aspects which are based on the territorial location of the group, but also on those which give it a real and specific cultural, professional, social, and political identity

The following may be cited as norms and resolutions or scientific doctrines which support the interpretation hereby sustained:

1.- Resolution 96 (I) already referred to of the United Nations General Assembly of December 11, 1946, the destruction of racial, religious or political groups is genocide.

FIVE: Indeed, the elimination of people undertaken by the accused and the other members of the Governing Military Junta should not be considered in part as a series of unconnected events with no common link; nor as a multiplicity of isolated actions that happened to take place at the same time; In fact one is looking at a planned and coordinated campaign, with the smallest detail catered for, waged against part of a Chilean national group to which all belong. This is revealed by the selection of persons which they seek to eliminate, the methods of arrest and disappearance used, the existence of centres specifically destined for use as concentration camps-, the practice of torture under "scientific control", clandestine burials, and conspiracy with the military of foreign countries to act outside the Chilean borders against Chilean citizens; the training of Special Forces; the creation of clandestine organisations which obey secret orders such as the DINA or CNI.

This whole set of circumstances, together with the absolute nature of the Junta's power makes sense if it is aimed at an objective far beyond mere reprisals against the political opposition, which, according to the means employed and the ends aimed at, could also constitute in itself a terrorist activity -- This means that what one hopes to achieve is the ideological, political and religious regeneration of the group through the violent elimination of those "elements" (citizens) who are considered "expendable" or who impede the project of a New Order, or, the same thing, all those who oppose, or present a danger- albeit fictitious - to, the group which has triumphed and oppresses the other.

The reality of these affirmations is evident from the narrative of Facts contained in this document, and from the indications (testimonies) that will be expressed later on and which are based on them.

The Resolution of the Inter-Americas Human Rights Commission dated 15 October 1996- states: "The Military Government that led the country from 11 September 1973 until 11 March 1990 carried out a systematic policy of repression which resulted in the disappearance of thousands of victims, summary executions, illegal killings and torture...That government- had used practically all known methods for the physical elimination of dissidents".

The objective of the destruction of a significant sector of the national group structures in its diverse sectors, as shown in the list, which is not exhaustive, contained in "Facts", is revealed in the selective elimination with criminal intent against the leadership of such sectors, organised on an institutional basis, against more than 50% of the population of the Chilean Nation, victim of the self-genocide or intra-genocide - The then Head of State, leaders of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Powers, Municipal Authorities, Universities, Churches, Trades Unions, Political Parties, professional and cultural Associations, the foundations on which the Nation was based In this fashion the destruction of this group was achieved, in benefit of the dominant group, headed by the military structure, for which the accused, Augusto Pinochet Ugarte, is jointly liable.

In addition, the mechanics of the operation and the choice of coercive measures used by the alleged perpetrators, once accepted the existence of the national group, were specifically aimed at ending the life of the victims or subjecting them to physical and mental injury, or forcing them to move from their homes against their will or to seek exile in numerous cases or attacked their sexual freedom in a systematic fashion. This behaviour appears logical and makes sense if it forms part of a plan of purification of the group itself once the elements which threaten its unity have been eliminated. That is to say the leaders who give it cohesion.

SIX: As pointed out earlier in this document, the criminal acts as described also have other sides and permit different applications, equally acceptable and described herein, Indeed, one examines herein the conduct of AUGUSTO PINOCHET and of the other jointly responsible persons who acted under his orders with the aim of systematically eliminating the dissident or person deemed to be dissident because of that person's ideological convictions or simply belonging to an ideological group.

During the discussions of what groups would be classified as the object of genocide in the drafting of the 1948 Convention, the majority of the participants maintained that ideological or political groups should be treated the same way as religious groups, since both upheld a common idea (ideology) that united their members.

The events as investigated could be subsumed, in addition to the partial destruction of a national group, as the destruction of a group for religious reasons, understanding this conduct as equivalent to the destruction of a religious group.

One of the "leit motifs" behind which the repressive military action stood, was the preservation of what they called the Western and Christian morality, in contrast to marxism and internationalism, in other words, Atheism. Likewise, the objective was the elimination of those persons opposed to the official religious stance of the Governing Junta, such as occurred with the group "Christians for Socialism".

In the preceding pages the equivalency between the destruction of a group for reasons of religion and the destruction of religious groups has been expounded; in this sense one must point out that the idea, as to Doctrine, is consolidated, that the terms religion or belief also include believers in God, Atheists, and Agnostics, according to the Footnote to Article 1 of the Draft of the International Convention for the Elimination of All Forms of Intolerance and Discrimination based on Religion or Beliefs, approved by the Committee of the General Assembly of the United Nations in 1967, reproduced in all legal doctrine.

*Historically this procedure was applied to the mass deportation of Tibetan children to Chinese centres of Marxist education to prevent them receiving any religious education (Cf. Le Tibet et La République Populaire de China in the Revue de Droit Penal et Criminologie, February 1961, p. 541; also the Tibetan Question and the Authority of Law, International Commission of Jurists, Geneva 1959; both quoted by Javier Saenz de Pipaón y Mengs in International Political Delinquency with special reference to the crime of genocide, Institute of Criminology of the Complutense University of Madrid, 1973, p. 152.). Although it is true that in that instance, the group in question was clearly a national group in the traditional sense of the expression, with a clear Buddhist religious identity, it is no less true that the acts were considered genocide in that they constituted the destruction of a group for ideological, religious reasons. There is a great degree of parallelism between this oriental Marxist style, ideological religious purge and what was attempted, but in reverse, by Augusto Pinochet in 1973. Meaning, that it was a question of combating everything that went against the official religious ideology of the dominant group represented by the Ruling Military Junta.*

Thus this action is aimed at a group held together by their common atheist or agnostic ideology, which, by definition, does not accept Christian Doctrine and Beliefs. Therefore, one may assert that in Chile, as happened in Argentina, although with differing aspects, even more clearly between March 1976 and December 1983, in a reversed image of what the Chinese Marxists intended, the intention was to destroy, according to the criteria of the perpetrators of genocide, those who did not profess a determined religious ideology (atheists or agnostics) or did not adhere to the Faith in the way that the oppressors wished. This would explain, in the case of Chile, the existence of Churches that fought against the actions of the military commanders and the persecution of these religious dissidents - Christians for Socialism - and non religious groups (marxists or otherwise).

The destruction of a group because of their atheism or their common non-acceptance of the official religious ideology of the perpetrators of genocide, is also, according to this, the destruction of a religious group, insofar as the group to be destroyed also behaves technically as the object of identification of the motivation or subjective element of the genocidal behaviour. It appears, indeed, that genocidal behaviour may be defined both positively, according to the identity of the group to be destroyed, (e.g. Moslems), and negatively, with greater genocidal scope (e.g. all non-Christians, all Atheists, all Christians of certain types, etc.). This idea holds, therefore, that it is genocide of a religious group when the destruction takes place in a systematic and organised manner, totally or partially, of a group because of their Atheist or Non-Christian convictions, i.e. in order to impose a determined Christian ideology on the former and the latter if they do not conform, eliminating them if this objective is not fulfilled, or simply because of their convictions.-

In addition, Fact Eighteen describes a supposed crime of genocide for ethnic reasons. In fact, the Araucanian tribe of Mapuches has its own ethnic identity with its own culture, religion, language and customs, different from the modern configuration of society. This difference has been legally recognised as part of the native culture and, therefore, enjoys the right, recognised by national and international organisations, to its own existence which cannot be attacked in any of its aspects and which if it is attacked in some of the ways foreseen in the Convention against Genocide and Article 607 of the Penal Code, gives rise to the generally reproachable conduct which is here being prosecuted.

The aggression against the Mapuche people is not fortuitous nor can its significance be diluted by inclusion in any of the previous groups referred to (self-genocide or genocide for ideological motives); rather it has its own identity and, as is stressed in Amnesty International's Report and the report by the Inter-Church Committee for Human Rights in Latin America, entitled People of the Land, and as we will have occasion to note throughout this cause, the aggression was carried out more intensively, because of the relationship to this ethnic group, with the intention of destroying their form of life, eliminating distribution of lands and properties, and obliging some of its members to disperse or simply eliminating them.

In addition, the conditions of detention, the humiliations, and tortures were also intensified by reason of the fact that they belonged to an ethnic or religious (Jewish) group.-

SEVEN: The facts as presented may likewise be considered crimes of terrorism, developed through numerous acts of executions, beatings, abductions, arson and bombings according to Articles, 515, 516 - 2nd, and 571 of the Penal Code.

The requirements that the penal text impose in this case do concur, as is revealed by the dynamics of the crime as described:

1.- It seems clear that the teleological element required by the Spanish Penal Code - subverting the Constitutional order or causing serious breaches of the peace - should not be understood as merely Spanish constitutional and public order as this would prevent the prosecution of any terrorist offence committed outside Spain, in open conflict with the Universal Vocation proclaimed by Article 23.4 of the Organic Law on Judicial Power (L.O.P.J.). On the contrary it must refer to a constitutional order equivalent to that of Spain, i.e. any that requires that "the State be Social, and

Democratic by Law, upholding freedom, justice, equality, a political pluralism as the supreme values of its legal system. as proclaimed in Article 1 of the Spanish Constitution. That is, precisely, the kind of constitutional order that was illegally and illegitimately overthrown by the Junta of the Chiefs of the Armed Forces, later the Governing Junta, headed by Mr. Pinochet Ugarte through the coup d'état on 11 September 1973.

Therefore, it may be affirmed that such criminal action considered by itself constitutes the first attack on public peace and constitutional order in Chile and means that the teleological element exists to its full extent. It should be borne in mind that the Chilean Constitution remained in force until 1980 and expressly forbade acts such as those committed by the aforementioned.

2.- As regards the specification of the crime committed, there is no doubt whatsoever that the whole catalogue of crimes referred to in the Penal Code as constituting crimes of terrorism (arson, murder, infliction of physical injuries, torture, illegal arrest, disappearances etc.) was covered.

3.- Finally, as regards the objective element of whether or not a terrorist or armed gang existed, it could be said that one may invoke Article 577 of the current Penal Code (formerly Article 174 bis b) of the old Penal Code that has now been repealed) which presupposes the non-existence of a terrorist organisation or armed gang and thus the matter is resolved. However, it must be stressed that there was clearly a previously conceived plan by the Military Governing Junta of Chile headed by Augusto Pinochet to conspire against, and thereafter systematically carry out, through organisations specifically created for this purpose -the DINA, the CNI and others mentioned in the Facts- a whole series of attacks against political opponents which were motivated by the same objective, namely, that of attacking the group of persons who were ideologically opposed, not only within Chile, but also abroad, using for this purpose explosives, military weapons and Italian terrorist organisations -Avanguardia Nazionale- or the Intelligence Services of other countries -such as Argentina, Paraguay or Uruguay- which together with Chile formed part of the "Condor Plan" constituting an authentic terrorist organisation operating outside any legal standards including those dictated by the Governing Junta itself.

The difficulties which arise in relation to the apparent contradiction in terms when referring to State Terrorism are resolved by proceeding on the basis that the Dictatorship is characterised by the inoperativeness of the Principle of Legality so that the very organs of the State act outside such legality, although formally it exists. The truth is that in the case under consideration, as we have seen, a whole series of Institutional Bodies and Structures were created outside the scope of formal legality, but by those in charge of the State and, in particular, by those managing the State, in order to carry out murders, abductions, torture, forced disappearances of persons etc. so as to eliminate political dissidence and end any ideological dispute in any sector.

The fact that terrorism is included in Article 23.4 of the Organic Law on Judicial Power as an offence capable of being prosecuted universally, must be understood to refer not so much to terrorism, whether national or international, which occurs in Spain, because this is already covered by domestic legislation, but rather to cases in which Spain as a member of the International Community has an interest in prosecuting, but the prosecution of the offence must unavoidably be carried out in accordance with Spanish law.

Spain's interest, as a member of that Community, does not lie in the fact that there is a Spanish victim or victims but rather in the fact that terrorism forms part of the concept of crimes against Humanity and the countries share a common interest in prosecuting it since it constitutes a clear case of international criminal responsibility, where terrorism is of this kind and, in particular, is used as a method of political and ideological repression and is carried out using the structures of the State or the State itself through its representatives. In this respect it is important to cite the resolution of the United Nations General Assembly in which it urges the adoption of all measures necessary to combat and eliminate all terrorist acts no matter where or by whom they have been committed (Doc. A/50/186 of the General Assembly of 22 December 1995).

Moreover, it is true to say that the principle of extraterritorial jurisdiction in the area of terrorism cannot under any circumstances be invoked for the purpose of protecting the Spanish State, but rather for the purpose set forth in the previous paragraph.

The fact that terrorism is deemed to be an international crime means that it is not governed by the requirement of double incrimination and, therefore, can still be prosecuted if it was not prosecuted in the country in which the events occurred at the time they occurred, because what is important is the principle of universal prosecution imposed by the principles of supranational intervention and extraterritorial jurisdiction, in reliance on Article 23.4 of the Organic Law on Judicial Power read in conjunction with Article 15.2 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights signed in New York on 19 December 1966.

As a result of the foregoing, it must be concluded that the reference in the Organic Law on Judicial Power to terrorism "according to Spanish criminal law" means that both the Spanish Institutional Order and the Institutional Order of other countries are protected when attacked by any such offences against persons and human rights. In other words, international legal interests, not merely domestic interests, are protected.

In the instant case it can be seen how as soon as the Governing Junta began to operate, its leaders, headed by Augusto Pinochet, arranged all the means necessary and gave the appropriate instructions so that the widespread repression would be clandestine, co-ordinated and organised both within and outside the country; they did not hesitate to seek assistance from other terrorist organisations or from other services equally conversant with terrorist activity.

EIGHT.- The actions may also constitute the crime of torture under Articles 173 and 174 of the Penal Code. The crime of torture was introduced into Spanish criminal law, although not identified as such, by Organic Law 31/78 of July, in Article 204 bis of the Penal Code under the heading of Crimes against Internal State Security; it is currently included under a separate heading in Articles 571 and 574 of the Penal Code. In this respect when considering torture as a universally prosecutable crime, one should bear in mind Article 7 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights of 16 December 1966, ratified by Spain on 27 April 1977 which forbids torture, inhuman and degrading treatment; Article 5.1.c) of the Convention against Torture and other Cruel, Inhuman and Degrading Treatment and Punishments approved on 10 December 1984 in New York and ratified by Spain on 21 October 1987, states as follows: " All signatory States shall take the necessary measures to establish their jurisdiction over the crimes referred to in Article 4 .... when the victim is a national of that State and the State considers it appropriate"; Article 3 of the Four Geneva Conventions of 12 July 1949 ratified by Spain, which refers to the basic rules applicable to any armed conflict, including non-international or domestic conflicts, forbids torture and inhuman treatment at any time and in any place. The same principle is expressed in Article 6 c) of the Statute of the Nuremberg Tribunal and Article 5 e) of the Statute of the Tribunal for ex-Yugoslavia created in 1995.

Moreover, Article 23.4g) of the Organic Law on Judicial Power of 1 July 1985 provides that the Spanish Courts are competent to hear cases regarding acts committed by Spaniards or foreigners outside the national territory capable of being classified as an offence and which, in accordance with international Treaties and Conventions, should be prosecuted by Spain.

Finally, Article 15 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights of 19 December 1966, having established the principle of legality, states as follows: "Nothing contained in this Article shall prejudice the trial and punishment of any person for any act or omission which, at the time when it was committed, was criminal according to the general principles of law recognised by the international community ".

Therefore, the mandate is contained in international legislation, the offence has been specified in the Penal Code since 1978 and the procedural rules are to be found in the Organic Law on Judicial Power, applicable on the basis of the aforementioned international conventions and the principle of legal procedure "tempus regit actum". In any event, given the difficulty that could be raised by Article 9.3 of the Spanish Constitution, the acts constituting torture must necessarily be investigated -since they were classified as an offence in July 1978- and, in any event as one of the instruments by which the crime of genocide alleged to have been committed by the accused was carried out (Article 607 of the Penal Code read in conjunction with Article 135 bis of the consolidated text of the Penal Code of 1973) and the crime of terrorism itself to the extent that they may give rise to serious injuries and even death.

NINE: Having classified the facts for the purposes of criminal law and made some additional comments concerning jurisdiction in line with the order of a Plenary Session of the National Court Criminal Division of 5 November 1998, the content of which is assumed and deemed to be incorporated herein as well as the order proposing the extradition of Pinochet Ugarte dated 3 November 1998, it is advisable to address, if only briefly, certain aspects relating to the ongoing nature of some of the alleged offences charged herein and the fact that some of the victims, specifically Orlando Letelier and the Spanish citizen Carmelo Soria, were specifically protected persons and the consequence of the obligation to investigate.

Both had the status of an internationally protected person at the time of his execution and death at the hands of the DINA which was ultimately following the orders of Augusto Pinochet Ugarte and, therefore, the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of Crimes against Internationally Protected Persons, approved by resolution of the General Assembly of 14 December 1973 (Spanish Official Journal (BOE) of 7 February 1986) applies to the case.

On the date of the attack on Orlando Letelier, as recognised in the judgment itself, he enjoyed such status.

On the date of the abduction, torture and murder of Carmelo Soria Espinoza, at the hands of agents of the Chilean State on 14 July 1976, he was an international functionary of the United Nations, appointed by the Secretary General and therefore enjoyed all the privileges and immunities conferred by the Convention signed by the CEPAL (Economic Commission for Latin America) and the Chilean Government on 29 October 1974. He was also protected by the provisions of the United Nations Charter and the United Nations Convention on prerogatives and immunities and, very specifically, by the first-mentioned Convention.

All these aspects are proven in proceedings. The following appear in the records of the investigation carried out by the Chilean Supreme Court which was set aside due to the application of the Amnesty Decree of 1978:

1.- The Statute of CEPAL (UN) Article VII of which provides for the immunity in Chile of its functionaries.

2.- Certification by the United Nations that Carmelo Soria was an international functionary at the time of his death;

3.- Certification by the United Nations that the vehicle in which Carmelo Soria was abducted was owned by him and bore a UN registration plate.

4.- Communiqué of the Chilean Ministry for Foreign Affairs dated 30 April 1992 recognising Carmelo Soria's status as a UN functionary on the date of his death.

The Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of Crimes against Internationally Protected Persons provides as follows:

Art. 1. - b) An internationally protected person shall mean any representative, functionary or official of a State, or any functionary, official or other agent of an Intergovernmental Organisation, who at the time and in the place in which the offence is committed against him ... is entitled, in accordance with international law to special protection against any attack on his person, freedom or dignity, as well as the members of his family who form part of his household.

b) Article 2.1 includes the offences which must be considered as such for the purposes of the application of the Convention, when performed intentionally:

"a) The commission of murder, abduction or any other attack on the physical integrity or freedom of an internationally protected person"

"c) Article 3 provides that "Each State shall adopt all measures necessary to establish their jurisdiction over the offences referred to in paragraph 1 of Article 2 in the following cases:

a) Where the offence was committed in the territory of that State or on board a vessel or aircraft registered in that State.

3. This Convention shall not exclude any criminal jurisdiction exercised in accordance with national legislation", c) Article 7 provides "The signatory State in whose territory the alleged offender is present, if it fails to extradite him, shall submit the matter, without any exception or unjustified delay, to its competent authorities for criminal prosecution, in accordance with the procedure provided under the legislation of that State";

d) Finally, Article 8.4 provides "For the purposes of extradition between signatory States, the offences shall be deemed to have been committed not only in the place where they occurred but also in the territory of the States obliged to establish their jurisdiction in accordance with paragraph 1 of Article 3".

This means that in the light of the impossibility of pursuing the prosecution against Augusto Pinochet "as the alleged offender" for the acts committed in Chile, due to the application of the Self-amnesty Law, despite the fact that there are sufficient and indeed extensive evidence to establish a prima facie case that he committed and participated in the aforementioned crimes (Art. 1.2 of the Convention), he must be tried either in the country where he is at present or in Spain, which demands his extradition for these acts as constituting crimes of genocide, terrorism and torture. Therefore, from this perspective under no circumstances can the extradition be denied without incurring the obligation to try him in England or before the Courts of Justice in Chile after the adoption of the relevant legal measures including the appropriate constitutional amendment. Otherwise there would simply be a concealment of the very situation of impunity and immunity which Mr. Pinochet Ugarte enjoys in Chile and which the House of Lords, within whose jurisdiction he is present, has rejected at the request of the Spanish Courts (see section 22(2) (d) of the English Extradition Act, 1989 which adopts this approach).

TEN: In accordance with the provisions of Article 384 of the current Criminal Procedure Law and despite not having the testimony of the accused Mr. Pinochet Ugarte, which has been sought by letters rogatory, there is sufficient rational indicia of criminal responsibility against him and, therefore, it is necessary to order that he be indicted so that he may be informed of the specific acts of which he is accused and for which he will be tried in due course. Therefore, having addressed the legal concepts, in accordance with the arguments contained in the foregoing reasoning, one should mention, if only briefly, the alleged participation of the accused Mr. Pinochet Ugarte and, secondly, provide a list, which is not claimed to be exhaustive, since the investigation is still in progress, of the indicia of criminal conduct which have been considered to date and on which this order is based.

The indicia obtained are of two classes, --it is necessary to emphasise the difficulty involved in obtaining information and proof due to the lack of co-operation on the part of the Chilean authorities, which has only been offset by the efforts of the victims and international bodies as well as other countries which have responded to requests for judicial assistance, --direct, in other words, those which show a specific albeit presumed relationship between the act described and the legal consequence of same and the participation in that act of the person or persons who are mentioned in the description of the facts; and indirect, in other words, indicia which without specifically referring to the situation to which they apply, reaffirm or support other direct indicia or strengthen the description of events or render it coherent, or explain why the events occurred in a certain sequence rather than in a different sequence, or, in short, help one to understand a specific situation by endowing it with a logical meaning, allowing one to avoid absurd interpretations and focus on the reality of the act committed, taking into account personal circumstances and the circumstances of time and place existing.

ELEVEN: As regards the subjective elements of the aforementioned crimes, - genocide, terrorism and torture-, it seems clear that they are clearly intentional unlawful acts which respectively entail the following:

a) direct deceit to destroy the human group in its various manifestations b) the intention to attack constitutional stability, public order or the International Community by means constituting a crime against humanity, and c) in this same context to degrade the person as a member of the human race and the International Community by attacking such valuable rights as life, physical integrity or freedom.

Finally, the subjective element means that the conduct, although affecting each of the subjects individually, forms part of an overall plan devised in advance to achieve the objectives proposed, a) the partial disappearance of the national group through the selective elimination of persons belonging to the national group itself for ideological, (political), ethnic and religious reasons, intensifying the repression in the latter cases, and in all cases imposing forced removal, exile, massive expulsions from jobs, or sexual aggression and multiple forms of abuse; b) the development of a criminal terrorist effort, organised and co-ordinated within and outside the country (Condor Plan), for the elimination of political opponents or of persons who, according to the persons in charge, potentially pose a risk; and c) the performance of systematic torture in all cases.

In the proceedings there are indicia of an agreement between the military personnel in charge, headed by Augusto Pinochet Ugarte, to bring the Chilean Constitutional system to an end and assassinate the President elected in accordance with the Constitution and commence a whole system of selective but massive repression as described and for this purpose they provided all the institutions and subordinate persons within the hierarchy with all the means which were not formally legal as well as the illegal means necessary and the impunity required -there is no exercise of "ius puniendi" by the State, its institutions not only inciting but also co-ordinating the campaign of terror- to undertake the task entrusted. Thus, a system of summary executions without trial was established, with mass burials in unidentified places, Clandestine Detention Centres which operated as concentration camps, a "scientific" system of torture was designed, and organisations like the DINA and the CNI were established to carry out paramilitary activity; in order to carry out such action within and outside the country, a system of international terrorist co-ordination was designed to obtain support and assistance from other countries or other terrorist organisations in order to eliminate or unlawfully hand over prisoners who were subsequently executed (Condor Plan).

At the head of this organisational chart of terror was allegedly Augusto Pinochet Ugarte, who although not participating in the material execution of the acts did conceive the plan and finance it with public funds from the State itself, whose power he usurped and exercised together with other high-ranking officers of the Governing Junta from 11 September 1973 onwards.

The alleged participation of Augusto Pinochet as instigator in the prior action giving rise to the criminal acts (illegal arrests, murders, disappearances, torture) is clear; a) is direct and authority is exercised over certain persons. As Head of the Governing Junta and President of the Republic he had the power to bring the situation to an end immediately, but instead he incited and encouraged it by giving the relevant orders to his subordinates, sometimes even directly exercising absolute control over the execution of an act from the position of sole Head of the DINA; b) is for the purpose of the commission of certain offences such as those listed to which should be added the misappropriation of public resources by using public funds for illegal or criminal purposes, or offences against property arising from the violent seizure of the property of the victims; c) against clearly defined persons who comprise those listed in this order and all those who have not been identified but who have a real identity and importance and who were victims of the criminal action described; d) is also effective and is the cause of the perpetrator decision to commit the act, who receives the order from the higher-ranking military officers, the latter in turn receiving orders from the members of the Governing Junta; e) is open, clear and undisguised as shown by the course of events and the absence of criminal sanctions or even the slightest administrative sanctions; f) is intentional, since one cannot seriously say there was ignorance, error or negligence, but rather awareness and the will to directly execute acts, and g) is followed by the execution of the crime agreed, an aspect which at this stage does not need to be stated more explicitly.

Augusto Pinochet, in his role as Director of the criminal plan provisionally established, as already mentioned, performed a series of necessary, irreplaceable and essential acts, without which there would have been no commission, persistence in, and continuance of, the criminal conduct, which was carried out in accordance with the previously agreed plan under which each of the participants played their respective roles which they had assumed and in which they could hardly be replaced according to "the theory of scarce resources". In fact, the members of the Governing Junta, the high-ranking officers involved, in particular, those of the Intelligence Services or those who fulfilled orders of their immediate superiors, can hardly escape being considered co-perpetrators. However, undoubtedly this description cannot be avoided in the case of Augusto Pinochet Ugarte (Articles 27 and 28 of the Penal Code).

Each member of the DINA, apart from applying the torture methods which he obviously knew thanks to the special training given, uses his own impulses or "imagination" in relation to torture.....". The members of the DINA were active members of the various bodies of the Armed Forces but there were also civilians.

The actions of the DINA were secret. "This allowed it to resort to non-judicial interrogations based on coercion and to commit all kinds of abuses, such as looting the homes of their victims, extortion and other similar acts".

107.- Copy of the letter sent by SIMON WIESENTHAL CENTER dated 23 November 1997 which mentions the violation of human rights of political opponents amongst whom are included numerous Jews (Volume 42).

THIRTEEN.- Since in the light of the indicia and reasoning set forth, the acts and alleged crimes described are attributable to AUGUSTO PINOCHET UGARTE, he must be indicted in accordance with Article 384 of the Criminal Procedure Law. Furthermore, having regard to the fact that extradition proceedings against him are currently pending, it is necessary to maintain the defendant in provisional custody given the risk that he might evade justice; this is a definite risk in the light of the declarations formally made by representatives of the Chilean Government --Minister for Foreign Affairs-- in our own country. Therefore, the measure becomes necessary under Articles 503, 504 and 539 of the Criminal Procedure Law without prejudice to what may be appropriate once he has been made available to the Spanish Courts and has complied with the requirement to appear before the Court imposed by Article 504 bis 2 of the Criminal Procedure Law.

FOURTEEN:- In accordance with the provisions of Article 589 et seq. of the Criminal Procedure Law, any civil liability which may ultimately be established must be secured, but this can only be done when such liability is duly quantified. At present it is sufficient to issue a provisional declaration of such liability and ratify the attachment of the defendant's property and accounts imposed by the order of 19 October 1998.

Whereas having regard to the aforementioned articles and any other relevant articles of general application
